PROBE SUGGESTS MAHADEV APP PROMOTERS GAVE ₹508 CR TO CHHATTISGARH CM BAGHEL: ED

The Enforcement Directorate Friday claimed that a forensic analysis and a statement made by a 'cash courier' have led to "startling allegations" that Mahadev betting app promoters paid about ₹508 crore to Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel so far, and that "these are subject matter of investigation". The alleged agent, 38-year-old Asim Das, has been arrested by the agency in Raipur after it recovered ₹5.39 crore cash from him.

PROTECT CIVILIANS IN GAZA, ALLOW AID TO REACH THEM, BLINKEN TELLS ISRAEL

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said Israel has the right to defend itself but it must do everything in its power to avoid civilian casualties in Gaza. This is Blinken's third trip to Israel since the war began and follows US President Joe Biden's suggestion for a human-itarian 'pause' in the fighting. BJP IS NOT AGAINST CASTE CENSUS: SHAH

Says party will take call after consultations; opposed to using it for vote bank politics

EJAZ KAISER & RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Raipur/ New Delhi

UNION home minister Amit Shah on Friday nuanced his party's position on caste census, saying the BJP is not opposed to it but any decision would be taken after due deliberation and wide consultation.

"We are a national political party and don't go by vote bank politics. Only after extensive consultations with all on the issue, we will take an appropriate decision. Merely using it (caste census) to win the polls in not right," Shah said in response to a media question here while releasing the BJP's manifesto, called 'Modi Ki Guarantee' (Modi's guarantee).

A recent meeting of the party's central leadership in Delhi, which discussed its OBC outreach ahead of the next Lok Sabha elections, reportedly also dwelt on addressing the caste census issue to counter the Congress, which had made it a poll plank saying the saffron party is opposed to a national caste head count.

National general secretary of the BJP's OBC Morcha, Dr Nikhil Anand, reiterated that the BJP was never opposed to caste census in principle. "The caste census process in Bihar was a unanimous and collective decision of the NDA government. It's a different matter that the exercise happened when the BJP was out of power as Chief Minister Nitish Kumar did a U-turn," he said.

The party's manifesto in Chhattisgarh promised ₹12,000 annual support to married women, subsidised cooking gas at ₹500 a refill, a monthly travel allowance to students, Ayodhya visit and other welfare schemes. It also promised to launch a Krishi Unnati Scheme that will offer a minimum support price of ₹3,100 per quintal for paddy with the procurement limit fixed at 21 quintal per acre.

On trail of ganja smugglers, B'luru cop held in Odisha

ASISH MEHTA/SISIR PANIGRAHY @ Bhubaneswar/Berhampur

A police constable from Karnataka was arrested on charges of smuggling ganja when he was in Kandhamal district in Odisha, probing a case under the Narcotics Drug and Psychotropic Substances Act registered in his home state.

Anand K, the head constable from Bengaluru Rural district, was held with three others in Kandhamal district on November 1. The police seized 17.5 kg of ganja from them. During probe, Anand revealed that he was part of a team that arrived in Kandhamal to investigate the case. Kandhamal SP Suvendu Patra said Anand was with three others and had entered into a deal to procure ganja at Kandhamal. "Prima facie it appears he arrived here under the cover of probing an NDPS case. But his motive was to procure the contraband with the help of his associates and sell it in Karnataka at exorbitant prices," he added.

However, Bengaluru police said Anand was indeed investigating the case and was on the trail of ganja suppliers. P7

THOSE who pledge their organs for donation upon their deaths might be awarded a funeral with full state honours. This is being explored by the state government with an eye on encouraging more people to donate their organs.

Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Friday took to 'X', to say, "We believe this noble act of gifting lives deserves a greater appreciation, and our government is contemplating a programme that recognises and honours individuals who donate their organs after death." He said, "We are exploring ideas including awarding certificates and conducting funerals of organ donors with full state honours," he said. P7

Saudis play high-stake sport, eye piece of IPL pie

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AFTER football, Formula One and golf, Saudi Arabia have turned their attention towards cricket, the most lucrative and popular sport in the continent. According to reports, Saudi Arabia is keen on investing at least $5 billion in the Indian Premier League that is projected to be valued at $30 billion. But the IPL is not a holding company as yet.

It is reported that the talks were initiated with the Indian government when Saudi Arabia's Crown Prince visited India in September last year. According to Bloomberg, "Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman's advisers have sounded out Indian government officials about moving the IPL into a holding company valued at as much as $30 billion, in which Saudi Arabia would then take a significant stake, people familiar with the matter said." The report said that the Gulf nation has expressed interest in buying a multibillion-dollar stake in the IPL and that the Indian government and cricketing body might take call after the general elections next year. The country has already invested heavily in football and golf. Some of the top footballers like Cristiano Ronaldo, Neymar, Karim Benzema are plying their trade in there. The BCCI did not want to comment, and if sources are to be believed, it apparently is not involved in any such discussions. To put it in context, National Basketball Association and National Football League, the other rich leagues, are private companies.

This is not the first time that Saudi Arabia has shown interest in IPL. In April, there were reports that Saudi was in talks with some IPL franchises for starting a league on similar lines in the country.

Experts seek independent probe into leopard killing

Netizens criticise foresters; Activists demand action against the official responsible for issuing orders to shoot the animal

BOSKY KHANNA @BENGALURU

WITH activists and many among the public debating why the elusive wild leopard was not tranquillized and captured alive, and instead shot dead by forest officials and staffers on Wednesday, experts are now demanding an independent inquiry into the incident, and that the report be made public.

"These kind of operations are very risky and messy. Many a time, things don't go as per plan. These are dangerous operations, more so if two people have faced leopard attacks. A leopard can jump up to 12 feet. So while being cornered in the nets, had the leopard jumped out and attacked another person, things would have gone worse. There is one question: why was the tranquillizing gun not fired again? The animal was shot dead with a double barrel gun. All questions can be put to rest through an inquiry," an expert on wild cats said, not wanting to be identified.

Activists have demanded that action be taken against the forester responsible for shooting and guiding the entire operation. Netizens, too, have criticised foresters who were on the ground for five days. They are reacting to the video circulating on social media, in which the leopard is seen jumping over the JCB bucket and heading straight into the net, when it was shot dead. They question the foresters' action of shooting dead a captured leopard. They have also questioned the veterinarians' expertise.

A team of 100-120 people were part of the leopard capture operation since October 26. A team of the leopard task force was also called from Mysuru to capture the wandering leopard in AECS Layout. Foresters used thermal cameras and drones to locate the animal.

Retired Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) BK Singh said that in 99 per cent of cases, the department has successfully captured the leopard. People were panicking and it could be that the department was running out of patience, and the foresters were justified in their act. Usually leopards fall for the bait, but this one did not.

A senior forest official said veterinarians Dr Kiran Kumar and Dr Prayag HS have been working with the department for many years in animal capture operations. Dr Kumar is a postgraduate in wildlife anaesthesia and Dr Prayag has worked with the department since two decades. "It is difficult to tranquillize a running animal, especially leopards, because of their agility. As per National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) guidelines, the animal should be darted only in muscle area, like a thigh or shoulder," the official said.

PCCF, wildlife, Subhash Malkhade said: "All NTCA guidelines were followed, which also say that orders to shoot an animal can be issued for human safety. It had already attacked two people and was not getting trapped. Shooting and running into the net happened within a fraction of a second. Had the animal jumped or slipped in the nets, there would have been havoc. It could have attacked any civilian or media person. We are open to any inquiry."

Soliga tribals open APU's climate festival

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

THE Azim Premji University on Friday unveiled the second edition of its annual climate festival, Forests of Life, which was inaugurated by Soliga tribals by paying tribute to Biligiri Rangaswamy Betta in the tiger reserve.

The festival is a celebration of forests, brought to life through art installations, photographs, music, movies, artefacts and interactive workshops. The festival is on till Nov 14 and entry is free.

As part of the festival, the University had selected a large cohort of student interns who travelled through 110 forests across India. They documented the challenges of human-animal conflicts, association of indigenous communities with nature and successful examples of wildlife relocation and detailed inspirational conservation stories.

The 13-day trilingual (English-Kannada-Hindi) festival aims to provide diverse perspectives from urban dwellers and indigenous communities, and explore the idea of forests.

"The second edition of the festival brings to life a tapestry of stories from India's forests," said Harini Nagendra, Director, Research Centre and Centre for Climate Change, Azim Premji University.

One of the Neravu cabins set up in the city for the safety of women | EXPRESS

60 PORTABLE CABINS INSTALLED UNDER 'NERAVU PROJECT'

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

THE Bengaluru police have completed installing 60 emergency portable cabins, mainly for women but also for the general public, as part of the 'Neravu Project' in remote and crowded areas across Bengaluru. This project has been carried out under the Nirbhaya Scheme for the safety of women, but can also be availed by the general public in case of emergencies.

City Police Commissioner B Dayananda on Thursday, said two police personnel will be stationed at these cabins, which are equipped with a first aid box, fans, bunker beds, chairs, a sink, a washroom and emergency contact details. The mobile numbers of the jurisdictional police inspector and assistant commissioner of police will be displayed outside the cabins.

The idea is to ensure that the public — mainly women — get police help during emergencies in crowded and remote areas. The project was started two years ago, but due to problems in finding locations for cabin installations, and permissions from BESCOM and BWSSB, the project took time to be completed. Each unit costs Rs 5 lakh, and the total cost of the project is Rs 3 crore.

An official assigned to the 'Neravu' cabin at Freedom Park explained that in emergencies like woman facing harassment, chain-snatching and similar cases taking place in some crowded areas, it is difficult for the police to reach in time to help the victim. The officers assigned to the respective Neravu cabin will be able to take the situation under control till help arrives from the police station.

He said even in remote areas, women facing an emergency can seek help at these cabins, for immediate help.

The cabins act as the first response point in case of emergency in a particular location. However, the registration of FIRs would be done only at the police stations.

The officer also added that new mothers out with their babies can use the Neravu cabins for feeding as well.

Register Arkavathy under RERA: Court to BDA

S LALITHA @ BENGALURU

THE Real Estate Regulatory Authority-Karnataka (RERA-K) on Friday issued an order directing the BDA to immediately register its Arkavathy Layout project under the RERA Act 2016. It is also considering penalty proceedings against the BDA for the violations committed in this project proposed two decades ago.

A RERA-K bench comprising its Chairman HC Kishore Chandra and members Neelamani N Raju and G Ravindranadha Reddy issued an interim order in connection with the complaint filed by Suthanthiraraj, an allottee and resident of Vidyarayanapura, against the BDA Commissioner under section 31 of the RERA Act.

According to the order, "The promoter had developed the project in the 18th Block of Amani Byrathikhane in Bengaluru East on survey numbers 19/5, 19/6, and 19/7. The complainant said the project was not completed, amenities were not provided and the physical possession of the site had not been handed over to the allottees."

RERA-K also pulled up the respondent (BDA Commissioner) for remaining continuously absent during the proceedings held on nine different occasions from September 1, 2022 till October 31, 2023. The order said that under section 3 and 4 of the RERA Act, "No promoter shall advertise, market, book, sell or offer for sale, or invite persons to puchase in any manner any plot, apartment or building as the case may be, in any real estate project or part of it in any planning area without registering the real estate project with the RERA established under the Act."

The order also asked the BDA to submit an explanation within three weeks as to why penalty proceedings under section 59(1) of the Act should not be initiated. A top RERA official told TNIE, "The penalty is quite high and can even touch upto 10 percent of the overall project cost."

Despite repeated calls made to BDA top officials for their response, there was no response. The Arkavathy Layout was planned in 2003-2004 with 8,813 sites to be carved on land acquired in the 16 villages in Bengaluru East and Yelahanka: Dasarahalli, Taisandra, K Narayanapura, Chalekere, Byrathikhane, Gedahalli and Prachenalli, Amrutahalli, Jakkur, Kempapura, Sampigehalli, Srirampura, Venkateshpura, Hennur, Hebbal and Nagawara. It has been controversial right from the start with 3,720 of the allotted sites cancelled over the years through a series of denotification orders and many still awaiting alternative sites.

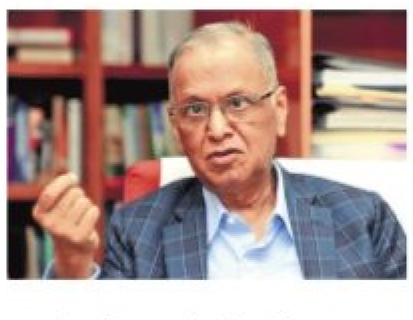
India needs $10K per capita to be a middle-income country: Murthy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INDIA should aim to increase its per capita income from $ 3,200 to $ 10,000 to at least become a middle-income country, said Infosys founder NR Narayana Murthy. He said, "The country has to progress a lot to become a developed country."

The IT tycoon added that for the country to develop, individuals need to have tremendous aspirations, make sacrifices, have discipline and do a lot of hard work. Murthy added, "When I say hard work I mean when individuals go to the office they need to use their time productively. There is no point in coming to workspaces and sitting idle, drinking cups of tea. When I say hardworking I mean we have to use our time very productively and efficiently."



Comments by Murthy came after he found himself amidst controversy for saying that young individuals in the country should work for 70 hours a week, to make India on par with the Western countries. While his statement drew a lot of flak, some IT leaders had also supported him. He was speaking at the Silver Jubilee celebration of academic excellence at IIIT-B, of which, he was also Director of the general body. Murthy also encouraged the IIIT-B students and faculty to push themselves, and in the coming years to rank in the top 20 higher education institutions of Shanghai Rankings. He said, "It may seem difficult now, but like John F Kennedy back then said, 'We don't want to send a human to the moon because it's easy but because it is difficult.' A set of determined, hardworking, aspirational, intelligent individuals can achieve what most of us think is impossible."

Kris Gopalakrishnan, cofounder of Infosys, praised IIIT-B for its growth and said, "Institutions go beyond people." He added that IIIT-B will scale even more in the coming years.

Speaking at the celebrations, Debabrata Das, Director of IIIT-B said, "Twenty-five years of dedicated pursuit for knowledge, innovation and academic excellence have made IIIT-B an institution that truly stands apart. "Our journey has been marked by a commitment to fostering research, entrepreneurship, and collaboration with industry, enabling our students to excel in the dynamic world of information technology."

04th November : What was the universe like before it was created? That's an unanswerable question - but we still can't help asking it. Many ancient theories say that there was an ancient void – a great 'nothing'. Recently, a famous physicist told me that the world consisted just of 'quantum ripples'. But I don't think any of us knows what that means

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

In the past, you hesitated in the face of seductive proposals, but you may now feel free to accept fresh offers of a social or romantic nature. Take heart from the fact that Venus' changing position in your solar horoscope is about to bring new and attractive people into your life.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

You can now afford to relax a little. Six planets are acting in your defence, not a bad total considering recent stresses and strains. Your social life is liable to revolve around hobbies and joint interests, and activities which are generally worthwhile and life-improving.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

Mars' approaching relationship with Neptune obliges you to look around for fresh inspiration. Romantic influences are stronger than usual, though in a much broader sense than the purely emotional. Artistic and imaginative types are bound to feel the real benefits of recent initiatives.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

The Moon is rapidly heading towards lively, energetic spaces. Enjoy to the full the next couple of days, while the accent remains on friendships and welcome domestic experiences. You must stress the value of a pleasant environment for your future happiness.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

Your stars just don't seem to be able to take their gaze away from your money. Before the next phase or cycle in your affairs, you must get your finances sorted out. There will be much to say about your cash situation, your incomings and outgoings, over the next month or so.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

These are energetic times. Whether working, relaxing or pressing on with routine chores, you should push yourself as hard as you can. But don't expect other, more lethargic people to keep up. And don't worry about delays - they're part of the pattern.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Much of what is said or implied over the current period is likely to be based on unfounded rumour or conjecture, and should therefore be disregarded. On the other hand, this evening you will be forced to listen to other people, like it or not.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You must be on the mend now, and a professional hiccup should be coming into perspective. You are set up to spend a pleasant weekend, and the closer you feel to a particular person, the greater you will appreciate their sensitivity and discretion.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Society has set the weekend aside as the time to relax. It is therefore rather fortuitous that the pleasurable fifth house of your solar chart is so well aspected. You are well primed for an enjoyable day, with an increasing chance of an extravagant outburst.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

You might want to pause for a long, deep breath. Recent events may have left you poorer than you were before, yet undoubtedly wiser. Such fluctuations in fortune are part and parcel of astrology's cyclical nature, and the next phase will be one of prosperity.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

What took place last week seems to have upset a number of personal arrangements. However, as one awkward planetary influence has subsided, so another, more favourable, one has emerged to take its place. Socially the future is bright, so get out and enjoy yourself.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

You do feel that you have been misled or misinformed. However, such feelings may be based less on real events than on your perpetual tendency to grab the wrong end of the stick as far as other people are concerned. Try focusing on the facts for a change!

BCom student attacked by jilted lover outside college

The two had broken up; accused used to stalk, threaten victim

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 20-year-old second-year B.Com student was allegedly abused and attacked by her former boyfriend in front of her college near Kengeri, between 8.30pm and 9pm on Tuesday. She was exiting the campus after attending classes.

The victim fell down unconscious due to the attack, and a passerby known to her family informed them. Her mother rushed to the spot and shifted her to hospital.

The student and her boyfriend, Naresh, were reportedly in a relationship for a couple of years, but subsequently broke up due to differences. But the accused had allegedly been stalking and threatening her over phone.

Naresh allegedly attacked the student, a resident of Kengeri Upanagara, outside Surana Evening College on 80 Feet Road in the same area, after which he fled the scene. He is yet to be arrested. He works at the ticket counter of Wonder La water amusement park on Mysuru Road, and resides in its vicinity, according to police.

The student filed a police complaint on Wednesday, after undergoing treatment at Kengeri Government Hospital, and is recovering. She alleged that after they broke up, the accused regularly called or messaged her, and that she had never responded, making him furious.

On Tuesday night, he allegedly attacked her for not answering his calls or replying to his messages. On intercepting her, he reportedly started punching her on her face and head, leaving her unconscious on the road outside her college.

Her mother told TNIE that the accused is yet to be arrested. "The accused is from Andhra Pradesh and stays near the amusement park where he works. My daughter is recovering, but is in extreme shock. The accused was waiting for my daughter to come out of the college. The moment she appeared, he started punching her in the face and head. He also snatched her mobile phone and smashed it on the road," she said.

An officer who is part of the investigations said they have details of the accused, and know where he stays.

A case of outraging the modesty of a woman, along with other relevant sections of the IPC were registered against Naresh.

AFTER WOMAN'S SUICIDE, HUBBY, 4 OTHERS PARTIED IN GOA, WERE FLEEING WHEN HELD

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Govindarajanagar police investigating the dowry death of Aishwarya (26) have arrested five persons, including her husband, when they were en route to Mumbai after partying in Goa.

On the day of the victim's suicide, the accused, including her parents-in-law, husband Rajesh, and two others went to Goa and stayed at two different resorts. They had also visited casinos there. They were keeping an eye on the police investigations about the suicide. Realising that the police were reaching Goa, they left for Mumbai, but the police caught up and apprehended them on their way to the Maharashtra capital. The accused were using keypad phones, switching off their smartphones to avoid being traced, the police said, adding that they are on the lookout for four more accused of whom two are staying abroad.

Aishwarya married Rajesh in 2018. The couple had known each other since the time they were studying abroad. Aishwarya had been residing in Chandra Layout with her in-laws, Giriyappa Gowda and Seethamma, owners of a well-known ice cream company, along with her younger brother-in-law, Vijay, and his wife, Tasmayee. All have been arrested. The couple reportedly shifted to an apartment after the accused started demanding dowry. Aishwarya's character was assassinated, based on her social media post by Vijay and Tasmayee, the complaint filed by Aishwarya's mother Usha S stated.

The investigation officer said Aishwarya, who was working as a senior employee at a corporate firm, was also forced to quit her job four months ago by her in-laws. Agitated over perpetual arguments, Aishwarya returned to her mother's home in Vijaynagar 20 days before she hanged herself over alleged dowry demands and harassment. A four-page death note was found in her room accusing family members, including her paternal uncle and aunt, who are currently abroad.

Police are exploring ways to arrest Aishwarya's paternal aunt Geetha and her husband Raveendranath, and paternal uncle, Omprakash, his wife Shalini, and daughter Lipi. Aishwarya accused her family members of assassinating her character in front of her in-laws as they had property disputes with Aishwarya's father, Subramanya.

Finding broken glass, abandoned 2-wheeler, HoD in BU goes to police

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

THE HoD of the Department of Psychology in Bengaluru University at the Jnanabharathi campus has approached the police after blood stains, broken glass pieces and an abandoned electrical two-wheeler were found outside the department. The unidentified miscreants have broken the glass panes of the main doors and the windows.

The HoD has also requested the university authorities to install a CCTV camera and to depute a security guard during night as the scenes at the entrance of the University were scary. The incident happened last Sunday night and came to light around 8.25 am on Monday when the HoD, Dr M Sreenivas, came to the department. The complaint was filed the same day.

"It was very unusual and a bit scary as there were stains of blood. An electric two-wheeler was also abandoned at the spot. The vehicle has been taken away by the jurisdictional Jnanabharathi police for further investigations. The incident must have happened when there was a two-day holiday for the university. The unidentified people have broken the glass panes of the main doors and the side window. Since the grilled doors were locked, nobody could enter inside. There is no CCTV and a request has been made to the authorities to install a CCTV. Also, more security personnel have been requested. Earlier one home guard would be stationed near the department at night, but now only they come on beat," Dr Sreenivas told TNIE.

A case of Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act has been registered by the police. "We are finding out the details of the two-wheeler which was found in front of the Psychology department. We suspect that the accused must be drunk and have engaged in a fight. They must have escaped after seeing the night beat home guards," said an officer, who is part of the investigation.

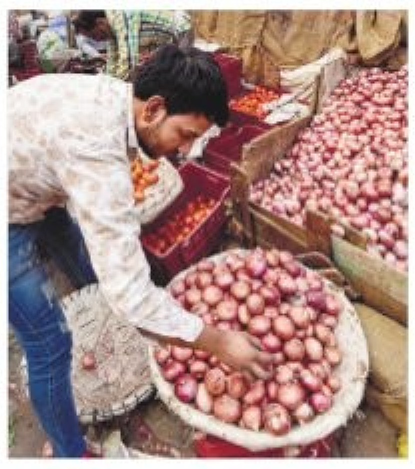
Govt's swift onion price brake works, wholesale price drops to ₹50

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE government's onion 'price brake' strategy has worked -- the price of onions dropped to Rs 50 from Rs 55 in the wholesale market, although in many retail shops, it was ruling at Rs 80 per kg. Considering the price decline, many retail shops which had purchased huge amounts of onion, expecting the price to rise further, were offering 5kg of onion for Rs 390-400. One online retail outlet was offering 5kgs of onion at Rs 380 instead of Rs 480, which was the price a couple of days ago.

Sources said the onion crop has been available with farmers in Karnataka and southern Maharashtra, and farmer groups were expecting the price to go up. They were inspired to wait on hearing news that some excellent onion crop in Vijayapura had been traded at Rs 100 per kg a few days ago.

Ravi Balakrishna, a wholesale trader at Bengaluru's APMC, told TNIE that news of onion price touching Rs 100 had prompted several farmers to return from the markets with their stocks, as they expected even higher wholesale prices.



'Price brake' policy

"The government had to act fast. It intervened in the matter of exports, which is at the policy level, and then at actual retail market strategy level, and announced that retail mobile kiosks would sell onions at Rs 25 per kg soon. Farmers who were hoarding their produce started panicking and dumping onions in the market, hoping to get whatever price they could," he said.

Farmer leader Kurubur Shantakumar said the government was going ahead with the 'price brake' policy due to elections to five states. "We don't fault them, but they but should also keep the vulnerable farmer in mind. Should they not offer a minimum price guarantee for crops where prices are extremely low? The farmer has lost a chance to make money considering there is an onion shortfall," he said.

Sources said the government's strategy appears to have worked because it has staved off an imminent price rise by causing panic selling by farmers.

The inflow into the Bengaluru market was 86,000 bags on Friday and 79,000 bags on Thursday, compared with 52,000 bags on Wednesday and 46,000 bags last Thursday, when farmers were clearly waiting it out.

Commodity experts said if the price doesn't shoot up in the next few days, it will remain stable for the next four weeks, and will not be a factor in the elections. By then, the onion crop in Rajasthan and other places would be ready for harvest.

Will back Dr G for CM, only if Siddu wants out: Min

Ministers continue to talk about chief minister issue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah participates in a rally during as part of 'Karnataka Sambhrama-50' in Gadag on Friday | EXPRESS

CONGRESS leaders, including ministers, continued to issue statements on the change in the chief minister's post, despite the party high command issuing a warning.

Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Friday said that no one, except the top party leaders, know what transpired at the meeting that decided the chief minister soon after the Assembly elections. "We all do not know what was the decision taken (over power sharing) at the time of forming the government as only the chief minister and AICC president (Mallikarjun Kharge) know," remarked Parameshwara, at whose residence Siddaramaiah held a dinner meeting with ministers Satish Jarkiholi and Dr HC Mahadevappa in tow.

Sources said the leaders may have revealed what transpired at the meeting to their close circles and that may have led to supporters taking a chance and issuing statements to back their leaders.

Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna in Tumakuru on Friday said if Siddaramaiah feels that he is done with holding the chief minister's post, Parameshwara will become chief minister. "Whatever I said in the past is not false. If Siddaramaiah wants to quit, Parameshwara will become CM," he told reporters.

Earlier sharing the dais with Parameshwara at the inauguration of newly built residential quarters for police personnel, Rajanna said Parameshwara seems to have luck on his side and he will back the former deputy chief minister to the top post, but only if Siddaramaiah takes the decision. "Till Siddaramaiah decides, we, including Parameshwara, will be on his side. When he says it's enough, I wish Parameshwara becomes the CM," he added.

Political analysts saw it as taking up Siddramaiah's cause to continue as CM for a longer tenure. But, they pointed out, Rajanna also spoke about a smooth transfer of power and compared it with the mess that was created when BJP top leader BS Yediyurappa was denied the post during an alliance with JDS.

Seeming to quell the controversy, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's brother and Bengaluru Rural MP DK Suresh on Friday said, "People have given a mandate to Congress to rule for five years. The goal of CM and DCM is to work towards giving a solid government. The CM's post is not vacant. We will discuss it only when the post falls vacant. Some people have their opinions, but whatever the decision the high command takes is final. Now, our leader is Siddaramaiah and there is no doubt about it."

Will accept any high command decision on CM: Priyank

MYSURU: Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister Priyank Kharge no Friday said he is ready to accept anyone appointed by the Congress high command as chief minister. Asked whether he is ready, he quipped in lighter vein, "If you (journalist) are ready, I am also ready." When TV channels started flashing the news saying that Priyank is ready to become chief minister, he posted on X, "If the High Command decides you (the journalist) should be the CM, I am ready (to accept him as CM)...." "Nowhere have I suggested that I am keen on the top job," he added. He told reporters that only the high command will decide whether the chief minister should continue or not. He said that only four leaders who were part of the meeting to pick the chief minister soon after the Assembly elections have clarity on power sharing. Everyone, including MLAs, zilla panchayat members and others, have the right to express their opinion and their statements are not written in stone, he observed. Hitting out at BJP and JDS , Kharge said that BJP has become leaderless and JDS people-less. ENS

'Siddu can ensure devpt works continue'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

FOOD, Civil Supplies and Consumer Affairs Minister KH Muniyappa on Friday admitted that while the government is facing a fund crunch at present in the wake of the implementation of guarantees, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is capable of ensuring that development works continue.

Replying to a query on MLAs complaining about not getting funds for taking up works in their constituencies, Muniyappa told reporters here that a person of repute having presented 14 budgets might not have decided to implement guarantees without making basic calculations. Only after understanding the fiscal condition a budgetary allocation of Rs 50,000 crore has been made.

As far as taking development works forward, the minister said nobody should preach to the Congress as its government's track record speaks for itself. The present financial crunch was temporary and it would be addressed in the coming days and additional funds would be allocated to take up works other than funds allocated to respective departments, he added.

Muniyappa refused to speak on power sharing in the government and the revamping of the cabinet, stating that a call would be taken by the party high command at an appropriate time. He added that Siddaramaiah is the chief minister and would continue in that post. He further stated that the Congress government was committed to the implementation of the Sadashiva Commission report on internal reservation for SCs, but would only take a decision on assessing the stand of the previous government.

Efforts on to get more rice

Stating that the Centre should not have played politics in supplying rice to the state for the Anna Bhagya scheme, Muniyappa said the Karnataka government has not sat idle by just transferring Rs 170 into the accounts of scheme beneficiaries in place of 5 kg of rice. It was in touch with rice-growing states such as Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Chhattisgarh, but has not yet received any reply from them.

While, as of now, 1.08 crore BPL card-holders are getting benefits of the Anna Bhagya Scheme and around 90 per cent of beneficiaries have received Rs 170 in their accounts, 14 lakh APL families have also got 15 kg of rice a month.

K'taka releases ₹324 crore for drought-relief

BENGALURU: The State Government has released Rs 324 crore from the State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) to take up relief works in drought-hit taluks in 31 districts. The State Government has declared 216 of the 236 taluks in Karnataka as drought-hit. The funds will be with the deputy commissioners to take up relief works. The GO said the government will issue detailed guidelines on the utilisation of funds for various drought relief works. In June, the state received 56% deficit rain, it was 29% in July and 73% deficit in August. Karnataka received the lowest rain in the last 125 years, the GO added. A central team of officers visited Karnataka to assess the situation and give a report to the Union Government. While the State Government has accused the Centre of not releasing funds to take up drought relief works, the Opposition BJP has slammed the Siddaramaiah government for not taking any measures to help people in drought-hit taluks. ENS

Kateel to govt: Dip into state kitty to tackle drought

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel on Friday said that instead of waiting for funds from the Centre to take up drought-relief works, the state government should spend from its kitty to disburse compensation to farmers for crop loss.

Unless the state government gives an adequate estimate of losses, the Centre is unlikely to release grants. Central teams studied the drought situation and the state government too should send its report. Comparing the reports from the two, the Centre will release funds as per NDRF guidelines, he added.

Dubbing the Siddaramaiah government anti-farmer and anti-poor, he said Congress leaders are fighting among themselves, while those in power have hung on to their chairs. Instead of mitigating the drought situation, they are busy discussing who would be the next CM. The people are fed up with the government within six months of it assuming power, he said.

The government will fall because of its internal differences, he added. He refused to comment on JDS state president HD Kumaraswamy being made the leader of the opposition in the Assembly. JDS and BJP are in an alliance for next year's parliamentary elections.

AAP alleges scam in Kidwai when Bommai was CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ALLEGING irregularities in Kidwai Hospital during former CM Basavaraj Bommai's tenure in 2021, the Aam Aadmi Party has demanded that the state government order an inquiry into it. It has also demanded withdrawal of the Kannada Rajyotsava award given to Dr C Ramachandra, former director of the hospital. AAP state organising secretary BT Naganna alleged that Rs 119 crore was given to Bangalore Medical System (BMS), a private health care agency, to set up a Covid-19 testing lab and other facilities, though the agency lacked an ISO certificate and certification from ICMR, along with recognition from the central government.

"BBMP released Rs 124 crore to Kidwai, of which Rs 119 crore was given to BMC. This apart, Rs 21 crore worth of equipment was purchased without calling for tenders," alleged Naganna, questioning whether the director was under any pressure to give a tender acceptance letter even before approval.

The AAP leader further alleged that there was an agreement between BMS and Kidwai that a lab should be opened on the premises of the hospital, rent of Rs 1 lakh should be paid and the income would be shared equally. However, BMS has not given any rent or shared income till now.

Stating that the alleged scam would not have taken place without the knowledge of then CM Bommai and health minister Dr K Sudhakar, AAP leaders said they would take the matter to court.

BELAGAVI: Belagavi police filed FIRs against 18 activists of the Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti (MES) on charges of observing a black day on the occasion of Kannada Rajyotsava on November 1. The activists had allegedly raised slogans against Karnataka. Despite not having permission to hold any anti-state events on November 1, the pro-Maharashtra MES organised a procession where several activists shouted slogans, demanding the merger of several areas of Karnataka including Karwar, Bhalki, Nipani, Khanapur and Bidar with Maharashtra. The state government had warned MES against holding any event that could hurt the sentiments of Kannadigas.

No question of leaving BJP, says Sadananda Gowda

MANGALURU: Former chief minister D V Sadananda Gowda on Friday denied that he is quitting BJP, saying the party has given him everything and there is no question of his leaving the party. Will relook Auradkar report implementation: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Tumakuru

HOME Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Friday promised that the Congress government will reexamine the implementation of the recommendations of the Raghavendra Auradkar Committee report in toto, as it is being partially implemented, on the revision of the pay scale of the police personnel, that costs an additional Rs 600 crore to the state's exchequer.

Speaking at the inauguration of the new residential quarters set up for police personnel, he claimed to have discussed the matter with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

He informed that about 40 per cent of the staff in the department have been provided with residential quarters, which will be increased to 70 per cent in five years as the chief minister has given his assent. "The PSI recruitment scam could not be resolved, and as a result, the process of recruitment of 545 posts stalled. Since there were 1,000 PSI posts that fell vacant, we have promoted as many as 600 Assistant Sub-Inspectors (ASIs) as PSIs as per Rule 32," he stated.

"The police department is like the face of the government. If the police department works well, the government will get a good name. The department is adapting to technology as the staff are given tech-oriented training. India's first cybercrime centre has started functioning in Bengaluru. The advances in technology also gave rise to cybercrime that has become a challenge for the department. The Bitcoin case is being investigated and all the facets in the scam will come out in the coming days," he said.

Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna and MLA G B Jyothiganesh also spoke. Karnataka State Police Housing Corporation Chairman and DGP Dr K Ramachandra Rao, Bengaluru Central Zone Inspector General of Police Dr BR Ravikanthegowda, Deputy Commissioner K Srinivas and Superintendent of Police Ashok KV were also present.

Priyank wants better packaging, marketing of GI tag produce

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

The land used for cultivation of Mysuru mallige is declining over the years, prompting intervention | FILE

WITH the area of cultivation of crops that have geographical indication (GI) tags, like Mysuru mallige (Jasmine), Nanjangud rasabale (banana), Mysuru betel leaf and others, declining over the years, the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department is planning to give a push to increase their cultivation by using funds under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act scheme.

As GI tag crops encourage economic development in a region and protect the quality of products, the RDPR department wants the Horticulture and Forest departments to work with it to prepare an action plan to avail of the funds to save these crops that are on the verge of extinction.

The Nanjangud rasabale, grown in a particular region around Devarasanahalli near Nanjangud, is reduced to less than five acres of cultivation following the wilt disease. Mysuru jasmine, Erranagere brinjal and betel leaf too have lost favour with farmers over the years. The Horticulture Department, however, has increased banana cultivation to 20 acres and has set a target of 50 acres to make the fruits available throughout the year.

RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge, who was in Mysuru, directed officials to prepare an action plan to utilise NREGA funds available with horticulture and forest departments to generate employment and increase people's income.

"Officials need not focus only on the Dasara season to generate income. They must try other ways to increase the earnings of the people throughout the year. The forest department must use the funds to remove lantana weed, which can be used to make decorative items and furniture. They should also encourage the collection and marketing of minor forest produce and push people to take up bamboo cultivation in the forest," he said.

To generate income and increase employment for tribals, he directed officials to reach out to reputed packaging and marketing companies that help them with attractive packaging of minor produce like honey and other products. He advised officials to give wide publicity to GI tag products made by tribals on social media platforms to improve their sales.

He directed forest officials to use NREGA funds to desilt water bodies inside forests. Asking panchayats to utilise funds to develop ponds near temples and in villages, he asked officials to publicise success stories of such panchayats.

The Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams on Friday announced that 6.70 lakh tickets will be made available for the Vaikunta Dwara Darshanam fete which would be held from December 23 till January 1, 2024

KERALA HC BANS FIRECRACKERS IN RELIGIOUS PLACES AT ODD HOURS

'No commandment in holy books to burst crackers to please God'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court has banned bursting of firecrackers at places of worship during odd hours. The court on Friday directed district collectors to issue orders in this regard to all religious places. Prima facie, there is no commandment in any of the holy books to burst crackers to please God, Justice Amit Rawal observed. The court stated that it will be compelled to initiate contempt proceedings in case of violation of the order.

The court issued the order on a petition filed by Binoj K B of Ernakulam and others seeking to prevent the bursting of crackers in all religious places in the state. The court directed the deputy collector, with the assistance of the commissioner of police, Kochi, to conduct raids in religious places and take into possession if crackers are illegally stored there. Deputy collectors in districts should also follow suit. The petitioners pointed out that explosive licences are being issued by district collector under the Explosive Rules. Temple holders, except a few, do not possess licence. Even if the licences are issued, the bursting of crackers causes noise and air pollution. Crackers are burst at odd hours disturbing peace, the plea stated. The court said this was not denied by the counsel appearing for the state government, district collector and commissioner of police, Ernakulam. It is also a fact that the court had also heard the noise of crackers after midnight, it noted.

The court directed to circulate the order to all district collectors for compliance. It also asked the state government to file a report on or before November 24.

9 working groups to formulate State Education Policy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NINE working groups have been formed to study and review various aspects of the education system in Karnataka, the State Education Policy (SEP) committee said on Friday. The 15-member committee, constituted on October 11, reiterated that the report on SEP will be based on facts and data and not presumptions. The policy will fix the short- and long-term challenges faced by the state's education system.

"The SEP policy will be comprehensive and futuristic. The committee will review and suggest changes to the quality and accessibility of education, financing, governance, student enrolment, professional education, online and distance education and employability factors. Digital infrastructure and Skill development will also be a part of the report," Committee chairman Sukhdev Thorat, also former University Grants Commission (UGC) chairman, told reporters.

He said various stakeholders will be consulted to include everyone's input in the policy. "Meetings will be held with different stakeholders such as vice-chancellors, teachers, students, schools, managements of higher education institutions, civil society and others," Throat added. The group will list the limitations of the current system and analyse them. The approach to building a robust SEP will be a multi-disciplinary approach, which would also consider the modifications needed in the system for the development of the state.

The committee will hold meetings in four select divisions in the state and refer to the All-India Survey, National Sample Survey, NAAC reports, and other studies to formulate the report. "The policy will be on the lines of the Radhakrishnan Commission and Kothari Commission reports while also conducting an assessment of National Education Policy," the chairman explained on Friday.

The members said they will submit the report by February 28, 2024, but may seek an extension from the government if needed. "As for the implementation, it is for the government to decide," said Thorat.

Police stations have become business centres, says Lokayukta spl court

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

OBSERVING that police stations have become business centres because of some corrupt cops, the Lokayukta Special Court said this has made people lose faith in the law enforcement agency. "They now hesitate to approach the police to get their grievances redressed. If steps are not taken to curb this, it will become a big challenge to the society. The voiceless, helpless and the poor will become victims," said Judge KM Radhakrishna while rejecting the anticipatory bail petition filed by Rajajinagar police inspector Lakshmanagowda S in a bribery case.

He said the police is meant to protect innocent people and ensure law and order. But unfortunately, police stations have now become business centres, he added. Denying the allegations, Lakshmanagowda said he is ready to give an undertaking to cooperate with the officers investigating his case. The judge said Lakshmanagowda's conduct of absconding renders his undertaking baseless. Bengaluru Division Lokayukta Police registered a case under the Prevention of Corruption Act against Lakshmanagowda, head constable Anjaneya and sub-inspector Maruthi for demanding and accepting bribe from a software engineer to file a 'B' report and close the complaint filed against him by a woman over sale of a car. Anjaneya had received Rs 50,000 as bribe from the complainant on behalf of Lakshmangowda and Maruthi. The Lokayukta police contended that the complainant had put the bribe money in the drawer of Anjaneya's table as per his directives at the instance of Maruthi and Lakshmanagowda. They said the custodial interrogation of the accused is needed to bring out the truth.

Judge Radhakrishna rejected the bail petition stating that the case demands a custodial trial. This is not a fit case to grant bail at this stage, he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai/ Tiruvannamalai

INCOME TAX officials on Friday launched searches at 40 places allegedly linked to Minister for Public Works Department, Highways and Minor Ports EV Velu across Tamil Nadu. He is the third TN minister to face the heat of central agencies in the last few months. DMK leader and minister Udhayanidhi Stalin said the central agencies like I-T and Enforcement Directorate (ED) have become BJP's political "wings" and the matter will be faced legally.

According to sources, I-T searches are being carried out at properties allegedly linked to the minister, his wife, son, and relatives. The searches that started around 6.30am are going on in different parts of the state, including Chennai, Coimbatore and Tiruvannamalai. "Several colleges linked to the minister and his close aides are being searched," sources said. I-T searches were also carried out at the offices and properties of two major real estate companies in Chennai and other places.

Bengaluru cops reject charges by Odisha police

HOWEVER, Bengaluru police said Anand was indeed investigating the case and was on the trail of ganja suppliers.

Bengaluru (Rural) SP Mallikarjun Baldandi told The New Indian Express that the incident occurred due to a miscommunication between the police team from Karnataka and Kandhamal police.

"Jigani police had registered a case under the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act. During the course of investigation, a team was sent to Kandhamal district. The team managed to nab two drug peddlers while one managed to flee. The contraband belonged to those accused and not the constable from Karnataka," said Mallikarjun Baldandi.

The three others arrested along with Anand have been identified as Shyam Kumar, Jayant Kumar Patra and Naresh Pradhan. Kandhamal police said Shyam and Jayant are habitual drug smugglers while Naresh a middleman.

As per the documents issued by Bengaluru police on October 26, Anand was part of a six-member team that comprised assistant sub-inspector Appaji, head constable Parveez Khan, and constables Chenna Basava, Gururaj and Deepu S.

They were permitted to travel to Odisha in connection with a case registered at the police station in Jigani.

Kandhamal SP Suvendu Patra said the team arrived in Odisha to nab an accused from Kandhamal district. However, except for Anand, other members were camping in Berhampur. "The team was not authorised to make any seizure. Even when Anand did it, the team should have informed the local police and the court as required under legal procedure in such cases," Kandhamal SP Suvendu Patra said.

The Kandhamal police said Anand was unable to clarify on the contraband in his possession, a claim challenged by Bengaluru police.

A case has been registered against seven persons under relevant Sections of the NDPS Act and four, including Anand, arrested, the police added.

PENAL ACTION: LOKAYUKTA CONCERNED OVER KARNATAKA GOVT'S RESPONSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Lokayukta Justice BS Patil on Friday said that his institution is not receiving encouraging response from the state government to the recommendations for penal action against tainted officials. Hence, the government should change its approach to such recommendations. He was speaking after inaugurating the vigilance awareness conference on 'Strengthening Efficiency, Ensuring Integrity and Transparency in Governance' at Vidhana Soudha.

Lokayukta Justice BS Patil speaks at the vigilance awareness conference in Bengaluru on Friday

Justice Patil said the Lokayukta had recommended penal action against officials after the charges against them were proved in 1,074 cases. But the government is yet to take action. Justice Patil said that a recommendation was made against an official two years before his retirement. But no action was taken against him even after his retirement. In this case, not even his pension was withheld. This kind of inaction or delay will have a negative impact on the society.

In some corruption cases, the government gave clean chit to those found guilty by rejecting the Lokayukta recommendations. The heads of departments should act swiftly on such recommendations, he said. Stating that the government should allow the Lokayukta to access details of its employees online so that it can function more effectively, Justice Patil said the people are losing faith in the system and are frustrated over revocation of suspension of officials found guilty in bribery cases.

Upa Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra spoke about the provisions of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act. Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma, Lokayukta Registrar Usharani and heads of various government departments were present.

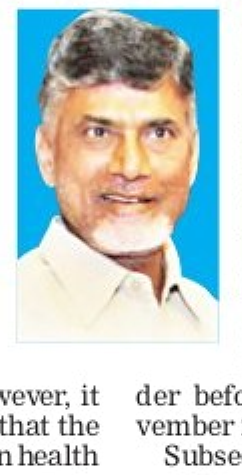
CWMA UPHOLDS CWRC DECISION, TELLS KARNATAKA TO RELEASE 2,600 CUSECS TO TN

CHENNAI: The Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) on Friday upheld the decision of the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC) taken on October 30 to release 2,600 cusecs per day till Nove-mber 23 to Tamil Nadu. The CWMA meet decided to uphold CWRC deci-sion despite Karnataka's contention that it would not be able to rele-ase any water to TN. Karnataka reiterated the reasons put forth before CWRC on October 30, which included the state would need water for drinking water and irrigation in the coming months and that the sout-hwest monsoon failed. As of Friday, the combined storage in the four reservoirs in Cauvery basin in Karnataka - KRS, Kabini, Hemavathi and Harangi stood at 56.76 tmcft. In Mettur, at 4 pm, the storage was 19.76 tmcft against its full capacity of 93.47 tmcft with 2,201 cusecs inflow. ENS

HC rejects CID's plea to allow 2 DSP-rank officers to monitor Naidu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

THE High Court of Andhra Pradesh on Friday rejected a petition filed by the State Crime Investigation Department (APCID), seeking permission to allow two officers of the deputy superintendent of police (DSP) rank to accompany TDP supremo N Chandrababu Naidu, monitor his movement and submit reports to the court regularly.



After hearing arguments on both sides, Justice T Mallikarjuna Rao in his orders said, "This Court has granted interim bail based on the respondent's health condition. However, it is essential to clarify that the interim bail granted on health grounds should not be equated with custodial bail. In this context, the court finds force in the argument put forth by the respondent's Counsel, emphasising that the assignment of two DSP-rank officers to the respondent's residence would constitute a breach of his right to privacy."

The court, however, reiterated that the conditions it had put earlier while granting interim bail would remain.

While granting conditional interim bail to Naidu in the Andhra Pradesh State Skill Development Corporation (APSSDC) scam case on October 31, the court had directed him not to directly or indirectly make any inducement, threat, or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case to dissuade him from disclosing such facts to the court or any other authority. He was asked to surrender before the court on November 28.

Subsequently, the CID filed an interim application seeking imposition of additional conditions, including restraining the former CM from participating in rallies, giving speeches and indulging in political activities.

GOVERNORS NEED TO RISE ABOVE POLITICS

HOW soon is "as soon as possible"? Most opposition-ruled states are grappling for an answer to the question as their governors sit indefinitely on bills passed by the state legislatures. In April, the Supreme Court urged governors to mind the mandate under Article 200 of the Constitution for clearing bills "as soon as possible". It was an observation in a case brought by the Telangana government. While disposing of the state's plea on the ground that there were no bills pending, the court told the KCR-led government to "come back later if such a situation arises". Tamil Nadu, Punjab, and Kerala have now knocked on the court's door with petitions against their respective governors over a bunch of bills that have been awaiting gubernatorial assent for long.

Kerala has argued that the governor "subverted the Constitution" and acted in an arbitrary manner by keeping bills on hold for an indefinite period. It also sought the Supreme Court's direction that the governor was bound to dispose of every bill presented within a reasonable time. TN has urged the court to declare the "inaction, omission, delay and failure to comply with the constitutional mandate" as not in the spirit of the law. It moved the court against the governor for creating a "constitutional deadlock" by failing to give assent for crucial bills and stymieing day-to-day governance. It blamed the governor of positioning himself as a rival to the legitimately elected government. These are indeed serious complaints. Approaching the court may have helped Telangana and Punjab, as their governors swung into action almost immediately after their moves.

The Constitution gives governors four options: give assent to the bill, withhold assent, reserve the bill for consideration by the president, or return the bill for reconsideration by the state legislature. Once a bill is returned and submitted again to the governor for assent, it is mandatory to grant assent. Can the governor exercise any discretion? It is true that Article 200 does not lay down a specific timeframe, but a constitutional authority should not circumvent a provision of the Constitution by taking advantage of an omission. It is sad that most opposition-ruled states are at loggerheads with their governors, who regularly bring governance to a halt in the name of ensuring constitutional integrity. The governor is the Centre's nominee as the constitutional head of a state and should be above politics.

KERALA HOLDS GALA AS COFFER RUNS DRY

KERALA'S capital is witnessing a seven-day extravaganza—Keraleeyam 2023, a mammoth initiative to showcase the state before the world. With more than 200 events scheduled at 40 venues, the festival coincides with the 67th anniversary of Kerala's formation and aims to celebrate the state's culture, traditions, progressive ideals and the 'Kerala model'. Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan introduced the event as an opportunity for Malayalis across the world to take pride in their state. Top academics and artistes including Amartya Sen, Romila Thapar, Soumya Swaminathan and Kamal Haasan are participating.

On the day the event was inaugurated, the state government submitted an affidavit at the high court saying it was facing a "huge financial crisis". The state's residents know this fact. The government is running on a tight budget without funds even to run its basic affairs and has been urging the Centre to raise its borrowing limit. Many state corporations are struggling to pay salaries, pensions and procurement dues. The opposition Congress-led UDF has been staying away from Keraleeyam alleging it was a financial waste at an inopportune moment. Finance minister K N Balagopal, however, insisted that the state was not splurging money on Keraleeyam and that most of the expenses were taken care of by sponsors. The minister added that the event showcased the state's achievements and the commercial opportunities it provides.

There is no denying that Kerala's success stories and progressive ideals need to be celebrated. But that such an extravaganza is happening at a time when salaries are being delayed and pensions are being denied is something that has raised many eyebrows. It may be a fact that the government is spending only ₹27 crore for the event, as it claims; but even that figure looks disproportionately large in the eyes of those waiting for their dues. The primary aim of the event—to tell the world about the immense possibilities that Kerala offers—is indeed lofty. But so far the government has not been able to convince the public about the urgency of holding such a gala when the state is reeling from such severe distress. In a democracy, right intentions do not mean anything by themselves—what is more important are propriety and context.

QUICK TAKE

CANCER FOCUS FOR MIZORAM

THE country's second least populated state has the highest incidence of cancer. A new 18-year study from Mizoram shows a consistent rise in the disease's incidence and mortality. Cases are increasing among the youth because of "static lifestyle and dietary patterns" triggering cruel genetics, says the report. A reversal of the trend would require generational habit changes. But why the high mortality? The state does better than most others on the number of patients per doctor in the public health system. The report says what it lacks are diagnostic facilities and cancer specialists, which delays diagnosis. Focused investment can go a long way in saving Mizo lives.

Cybercrime has become a low-risk, high-return caper in which transferring expertise is easy. So a number of hotspots have come up for launching such offences

MANY JAMTARAS BLOOMING ON A BED OF GREED

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister

SOURAV ROY

MANY years ago, the then chief minister of Jharkhand asked me to work on a development plan for the state and I happened to visit Jamtara, not far from Dumka. At that time, the city or the district possessed nothing special to warrant all-India fame. No longer. Partly because of an OTT series, everyone recognises Jamtara as the country's phishing capital. Films, TV serials and OTT series, fictionalised or documentary-type, reflect the reality. There are several on cybercrime, not only the one set in Jamtara.

Cybercrime assumes many forms—phishing is only one variant. Cybercrime can target individuals, businesses or governments. (The National Cyber Coordination Centre is especially relevant for the last variety.) The ones we hear about, and that friends and acquaintances fall prey to, are targeted at individuals. I know of friends who succumbed many years ago to the Nigerian letter scam, though they should have known better. The more common cybercrimes targeting individuals are phishing, identity theft (SIM swap), hacking, cyber bullying, stalking and extortion, fake job offers, deliveries and lotteries. There can be no prophylactic against human rapacity.

The National Cybercrime Reporting Portal, the Reserve Bank and many others have information on what should be done—before and after the fact. One of the best I have read was brought out in 2021 by the office of the RBI ombudsman. Titled 'Raju and the Forty Thieves', it contained "forty stories providing glimpses of fraudulent events being reported to us and simple tips about DOs and DON'Ts. Raju is a typical gullible citizen, and, in these stories, he appears in different characters, sometimes as a senior citizen, sometimes as a farmer, sometimes as a happy-go-lucky guy". Those forty stories are about forty standard banking and financial scams.

Technology has empowered us; it has also made us more vulnerable and empowered the criminal. We are probably more careful in a physical public space than we are in a virtual public space through mobiles, tablets and laptops. Some victims have themselves and their greed to blame—job offers, lottery scams, perhaps even sextortion.

Today's generation will identify Trojan horse as a malware. An earlier generation would have identified it with the wooden horse used in the Trojan war. In Virgil's version, the Trojan priest declared, "I fear Greeks, even those bearing gifts." This is a paraphrased translation of the Latin, not an exact one, though this paraphrased version is generally quoted. The crux, in the Latin, is the word 'Danaos'. A better translation is, "I fear the Danaos, even those bearing gifts." While Latin writers did use the word to mean Greeks, Danaos also means those who are treacherous. A priori, one should assume that those who bear gifts have treachery in mind.

But everyone who suffers doesn't succumb to greed. There is laxity, too. Humans are naturally risk-averse. But that risk aversion or caution is cast aside when one deals with the insentient. Witness the alacrity with which one uses public wi-fi, knowing fully well it isn't secure. The Future Crime Research Foundation is a start-up incubated at IIT Kanpur. They have recently produced a white paper on cybercrime trends in India, which is rich in data. It says the top districts that are cybercrime hotspots are Bharatpur, Mathura, Nuh, Deoghar, Jamtara, Gurgaon, Alwar, Bokaro, Karmatand and Giridih. Jamtara has company, often within the state. "The analysis of the top 10 cybercrime-prone districts in India reveals several common factors contributing to their vulnerability. These include geographical proximity to major urban centres, limited cybersecurity infrastructure, socioeconomic challenges, and low digital literacy." In addition, there are emerging cybercrime hotspots in several states that are too numerous to mention.

Let me add to the earlier quote. "Low skills required: decreasing technical barriers to entry allow individuals with limited expertise to engage in cybercriminal activities using readily available hacking tools and malware. Poor KYC and verification: inadequate know-your-customer and verification processes on online platforms enable criminals to create fake identities, making it challenging for law enforcement to trace them. Availability of fake resources: easy access to fake accounts and rented SIM cards on the black market allows cybercriminals to operate anonymously, complicating efforts to track and prosecute them. Affordable AI tools: the affordability of AI-driven cyberattack tools empowers criminals to automate and scale their attacks, increasing their efficiency. Accessible VPNs: virtual private networks provide anonymity for cybercriminals, making it difficult for authorities to trace their online presence and location. Recruitment and training: unemployed or underemployed individuals are recruited and trained by cybercrime syndicates, creating a growing pool of potential criminals."

There was a news item about the detection of 6.4 million fake phone connections using the department of telecom's artificial intelligence and facial recognition software. With a single Aadhaar number, I can have a maximum of nine SIM cards. In this instance of fraud detection, thousands of SIM cards were acquired through a single Aadhaar number. The lack of enforcement of SIM rules doesn't necessarily have a clear geographical angle. What explains the emergence of specific nodes or clusters as hotspots? In a positive sense, why were there so many plumbers from Kendrapara much before the official Institute of Plumbing Technology was set up there? The answer lies in skill formation and training, albeit informal. What has probably happened is that these districts and cybercrime hotspots have become training centres, albeit illegal.

The Jamtara OTT series conveyed the impression of cybercrime being informal and unorganised. As elsewhere in the economy, formalisation is a work in progress. But skill formation for cybercrime is increasingly becoming formal and organised. Therefore, it is no longer only about Jamtara, which is identified as being less developed. It is also about Delhi, Haryana and Gujarat. Cybercrime has become high-value and more attractive. The probability of gain is high and the risk of getting caught is low, which explains the economics of it. The Pandora's box of woes isn't pretty—the stakes are higher than those of the forty thieves.

BUSINESS CONFIDENCE BUOYANT DESPITE ECONOMIC HEADWINDS

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE

Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

OPTIMISM in the Indian economy has soared, both internationally and domestically, thanks to strong fundamentals and healthy demand drivers. Domestic demand is expected to gather momentum on account of sustained buoyancy in services, revival in rural demand, the government's thrust on capex, and healthy balance sheets of banks and corporates.

The Reserve Bank of India's recent forward-looking surveys on consumer and industrial outlook also alluded to the sanguine economic prospects. Labour markets are also recovering well with a fall in unemployment and a rise in the labour force participation rate.

That said, there are some risks on the horizon mainly emanating from uncertainty prevailing in the global scenario due to flaring geopolitical tensions. However, the Indian economy remains well placed to tackle these challenges buttressed by its strong macroeconomic fundamentals.

Adding to the optimism are the findings of the recent Confederation of Indian Industry's (CII) 124th Business Outlook Survey for the second quarter of the financial year, which strongly reflect the confidence of industry.

The CII Business Confidence Index has continued its upward trajectory as it rose to a three-quarter high of 67.1 in the second quarter as compared to 66.1 in the previous quarter, reiterating the on-ground experience of most industry players.

According to the survey, about 55 percent of respondents found that an improvement in the ease of doing business along with the government's thrust on capital spending, especially in infrastructure-related sectors, were the biggest positives for domestic growth in the current fiscal. Indeed, the government's focus on capital spending, which rose 48 percent on an annual basis in April-August, will help to stimulate growth in other sectors of the economy through its multiplier effect.

Respondents also expressed satisfaction on the growth front, with the first quarter real GDP print coming at 7.8 percent and a sustained positive momentum seen in most high-frequency indicators.

The ongoing festive season cheer is also expected to provide a fillip to domestic demand. Hence, the Indian economy is well placed to achieve the 6.5 percent growth forecast by the RBI. The results of the survey came in line with this prognosis, with 66 percent expecting the economy to grow at 6.0-7.0 percent this fiscal.

It is encouraging to see that the overall domestic demand has started getting support from the rural sector too. About half the survey respondents anticipated an improvement in rural demand in the first half of the fiscal. A strong rural economy is a prerequisite for faster growth as it fuels consumption. Rural consumption must be strong for the economy to consistently register a GDP growth of more than 8 percent over the medium term. Hence, it is encouraging to see that industry is expecting rural demand to turn around and some consumer companies are seeing green shoots of recovery with the onset of the festive season.

Many companies expect higher capacity utilisation down the year. It tallies with the experience of several cement, steel and auto manufacturers

The improving domestic demand also finds a reflection in corporate indicators. Two-thirds of the respondents expect sales and new orders to increase at a faster clip in the second quarter than in the first. Mirroring this, half the respondents feel that capacity utilisation in their companies would range 75-100 percent in the second quarter, compared to 48 percent who experienced similar utilisation levels in the previous quarter. This bodes well for private investment outlook as high capacity utilisation fuels fresh investments. These findings are also attested by the on-ground experience of many companies engaged in sectors such as cement, steel and automobiles.

The 124th round of the CII Business Outlook Survey was conducted during September 2023 and saw the participation of around 200 firms of varying sizes and across all industry sectors and regions of the country. A majority of the respondent firms were from the manufacturing sector and, notably, 54 percent of all firms belonged to the large and medium size cohort. An index score above 50 indicates positive confidence while a score of less than 50 indicates the contrary.

The rise in retail inflation, which had emerged as a challenge in recent months, is now tempering with the September print decelerating sharply to 5.0 percent from 6.8 percent in the previous month. This is in tandem with a downward movement in food prices.

A slew of supply-side measures announced by the government in recent months also contributed towards taming the inflationary impulses in the economy. Notably, of the key measures imposed, one-third of the survey respondents stated that imposing export duties on commodities will be most beneficial to tame inflationary pressures, followed by open market operations (26 percent of the respondents).

With the inflation trajectory waning, the likelihood of interest rates remaining unchanged in the near term has brightened—an assessment affirmed by the survey findings which noted that more than half the respondents (58 percent) anticipated that the RBI would stick with a pause on the repo rate in the second half of the current fiscal. The status quo on interest rates will help let the lagged impact of the 250-basis-point hike in the repo rate to work through the system.

'Food processing now sunrise sector'

Sector has attracted ₹50K crore FDI in 9 years with capacity reaching over 200 LT, says PM

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said India's culinary diversity has attracted investment in food processing, which is now a sunrise sector in the country.

Speaking after inaugurating the World Food India-2023 meet, the PM said, "India's sunrise food processing sector has so far attracted FDI of ₹50,000 crore in the last nine years with food processing capacity going up from 12 lakh tonnes to over 200 lakh tonnes."

Highlighting the health benefits of consuming millets, the PM said the country's culinary diversity is based on the health benefits of consumers. The PM also asserted that fusion of technology and state would pave the way for the economy of the future and that scheme like 'One District One Produce' has given major support to the farmers.

"The government's investor-friendly policies are taking the food sector to new heights in the country and the country has achieved remarkable growth in every sector of food processing industry," said Modi. He also highlighted challenges of food security at the event, organised in New Delhi with an aim to showcase India as the 'food basket of the world' and celebrate the 2023 as the International Year of Millets.

Participation from 80 countries

The Global Food India, started on Friday at Bharat Mandapam in New Delhi, is being attended by 80 countries, partner ministries, departments and commodity boards. The event aims to showcase India as the 'food basket of the world' and celebrate the year 2023 as the International Year of Millets. At the event, Prime Minister Narendra Modi disbursed seed capital assistance to over one lakh self-help groups and inaugurated a 'food street'.

"Today, India stands at the seventh position with an overall export value of more than $50,000 in agricultural produce. There is no sector in the food processing industry where India has not made a significant achievement," he said. Touching upon the country's initiatives in the agriculture sector, Modi mentioned the creation of an agri-export policy for the first time in India with all-round development in logistics and infrastructure.

Quoting figures, he said more than 100 district-level hubs connecting the district to the global markets and 20 mega food parks have been created.

Amid growing urbanisation, the Prime Minister said, the demand for packaged food is creating a mega opportunity for farmers, startups and small entrepreneurs. He said demands for India's many food produces have increased across the world, which shows food processing is a sunrise sector.

Advocating a women-led development, the Prime Minister said the increasing contribution of women to the economy benefits the food processing industry. "Around 9 crore women in India are associated with the self-help groups and a majority of them are taking a lead in food processing initiatives," he said.

Lauding the country's culinary diversity, he said there is as much food diversity in India as there is cultural diversity. "India's food diversity is a dividend for every investor in the world. The food industry of the world has a lot to learn from India," he said.

The PM also pitched for worldwide use of heath-benefiting millets saying that one day, the world will adopt it. He also informed the gathering that his government provides nutritional food to more than 10 crore children and pregnant women in the country.

Modi also said that India's sustainable food culture has evolved over hundreds of years linked with food habits to Ayurveda. The PM also stressed the need for reducing food wastage as a significant endeavour in realising the objective of a sustainable lifestyle.

Modi, UAE prez discuss crisis in West Asia, call for peace

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi had a telephonic conversation with UAE President Mohammed bin Zayed on Friday. The two leaders spoke about the crisis in West Asia after the outbreak of the conflict between Israel and Palestine.

Expressing concerns about the deteriorating security situation and the humanitarian crisis, the leaders called for early resolution of the situation and for long peace in the region. This conversation happened a day after US President Joe Biden spoke about giving a "pause" in the conflict to assist humanitarian aid.

"Had a good conversation with my brother HH Mohamed-Bin Zayed, President of the UAE, on the West Asia situation. We share deep concerns about terrorism, the deteriorating security situation and the loss of civilian lives. We agree on the need for an early resolution of the security and humanitarian situation and that durable regional peace, security and stability are in everyone's interest," said the Prime Minister.

India has maintained a balanced view on the conflict. Though Modi condemned the attack by Hamas on October 7, he also spoke with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu two days after the conflict. A few days later, Modi spoke with Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas and expressed his concern over the humanitarian crisis. India also sent humanitarian aid to Palestine.

It has been 28 days since the conflict began, and over 10,000 lives have been lost. India sent humanitarian aid to war-torn Palestine on October 22. An Indian Air Force C-17 aircraft carried around 6.5 tonnes of medical aid and 32 tonnes of disaster relief material for the people of Palestine. The aircraft landed at El-Arish airport in Egypt, from where it was to be transported to Gaza.

Meanwhile, as Israeli forces surrounded Gaza, US Secretary of State Anthony Blinken landed in Tel Aviv on Friday and met with Netanyahu.

Call for peace

Expressing concerns about the deteriorating security situation and the humanitarian crisis in the Israel-Hamas war, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and UAE President Mohammed bin Zayed called for early resolution of the situation and for long peace in the region. This conversation happened a day after US President Joe Biden spoke about giving a "pause" in the conflict to assist humanitarian aid.

"We will discuss Israel's right to defend itself and our work to get humanitarian assistance to civilians in Gaza," Secretary Blinken said after arriving in Israel.

The United States is working with Israel to create a mechanism for a series of humanitarian "pauses" in the Gaza War to allow vital assistance to enter the enclave, Blinken told reporters in Tel Aviv.

This statement comes after US President Joe Biden spoke about a "pause" in the conflict on Thursday. President Biden was making a campaign speech in Minneapolis when a heckler urged him to call for a ceasefire.

"I think we need a pause," he replied, saying that it would allow hostages to get out.

SC asks Chadha to tender apology to RS chairman in select committee row

JAISON WILSON & RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday asked suspended AAP lawmaker Raghav Chadha to meet Rajya Sabha chairperson Jagdeep Dhankhar and tender an unconditional apology to him over the select committee row, saying the latter may consider it "sympathetically."

A bench comprising CJI DY Chandrachud and justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra noted the submissions of lawyer Shadan Farasat, appearing for Chadha, that the first-time and youngest lawmaker from the House of Elders was willing to apologise to the Vice President.

"Lawyer Shadan Farasat says that he (Chadha) is the youngest member in the Rajya Sabha. Bearing in mind that he has no intention to affect the dignity of the House of which he is a member, Farasat submits that the petitioner will seek an appointment with the chairperson (of the Rajya Sabha) so that he may place an unconditional apology which may be considered sympathetically," the bench said in its order.

Chadha has been under suspension since August 11 after some MPs accused him of adding their names to a motion without their consent. The motion sought the constitution of a select committee to examine the Delhi Services Bill.

Consent matters

Chadha has been under suspension since August 11 after some MPs accused him of adding their names to a motion without their consent. The motion sought the constitution of a select committee to examine the contentious Delhi Services Bill.

It was alleged that the Rajya Sabha MP had moved a motion to refer the Delhi Services Bill to the select committee. He had allegedly named some lawmakers as members of the proposed committee and it was claimed that some of the MPs had not given their consent for it.

The top court will hear the matter again after Diwali break when the lawyers inform the bench about the further development in the matter.

After ED officials' arrest, Cong quips govt must make ED 'rate list' public

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AFTER the anti-corruption bureau arrested an Enforcement Directorate (ED) official in Rajasthan, along with an associate, allegedly while accepting a bribe of ₹15 lakh for settling a matter related to a chit fund case, the Congress on Friday demanded that the ED should release its "rate list" for its officers.

Pointing out how the agencies have been intimidating people, the party alleged that the Enforcement Directorate, Central Bureau of Investigation and Income Tax Department were "campaigners" and "frontline warriors" of the BJP who are given "targets" to scare opposition leaders and make them join the ruling party.

The party also called for an investigation into the charges made by Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel that ED officials, while travelling to the poll-bound states supposedly for raids, were carrying cash for the BJP.

Addressing the media, party spokesperson Pawan Khera said that the ED was now seen as the frontline warrior of the BJP. He noted that 95 percent of the raids and cases were against opposition leaders.

"What happened to the cases and complaints against Narayan Rane, Ajit Pawar, Kuldeep Bishnoi, Suvendu Adhikari, and Himanta Biswa Sarma? All their sins are forgiven when they join the BJP," said Khera.

"The Modi government should make the rate list of Enforcement Directorate public," he quipped.

"The person who was arrested was a low-ranking official, caught taking a bribe of ₹15 lakh. Imagine the rates for those who hold higher and more powerful positions, including those who are at the top," he said, adding that the weakening of the premier investigating agencies by the current BJP government is a dangerous trend.

Khera asserted that the Congress wants the investigating agencies of the country to remain powerful and fearless.

Echoing this view, senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said that after facing the prospects of certain defeat in Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan, the Prime Minister has unleashed his last and only remaining weapon, the ED, to damage the reputation of Congress leaders. "But the people of Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan are the Congress party's shield. PM Modi's threats and intimidations will only strengthen the resolve of voters who know this is just election drama reflecting the BJP's desperation," said Ramesh.

Baghel was paid ₹508 crore by Mahadev app promoters: ED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

DAYS ahead of the elections in Chhattisgarh, the Enforcement Directorate on Friday claimed that a man, who was caught while delivering cash in the poll-bound state, has alleged that the promoters of the Mahadev betting app paid ₹508 crore to CM Bhupesh Baghel, a charge he strongly denied.

ED said it had received an input that a large amount of cash was being moved in Chhattisgarh by the promoters of Mahadev app, after which it held searches at Hotel Triton and another location in Bhilai.

In reply, Baghel took to X, "The BJP is fighting Chhattisgarh polls with support of agencies like ED, IT, DRI, CBI. It's an attempt to malign my image just ahead of the elections. It is a political attempt to defame the popular Congress government." He said that following the professed probe into the 'Mahadev app', the ED first carried out raids at the residences of his close associates to defame them and "now an allegation has been leveled against me on having received ₹508 crore."

Cash-for-query: Dubey says ethics panel asked no personal questions

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

A day after TMC MP Mahua Moitra walked out of the Parliamentary Ethics Committee, along with opposition MPs on the panel, BJP MP Nishikant Dubey on Friday criticised Congress leader N Uttam Kumar who defended Moitra in the alleged cash-for-query controversy.

Dubey alleged that unauthorised access to the parliamentary portal through a member's login account from an outsider posed a threat to the country's sensitive documents.

In his criticism of the Congress MP, who is also a member of the LS Ethics Committee, Dubey pointed out that Uttam Kumar Reddy had come to Moitra's defence even when her own party, the TMC, had not done so. He also emphasised that no questions about Moitra's personal life were asked during the proceedings, and he went so far as to pledge to retire from politics if evidence suggested otherwise.

Dubey accused Moitra of playing the "woman's victim card" against the committee and harming the image of Schedule Caste MP Vinod Sonkar, the committee's chairman. He alleged that Darshan Hiranandani, in an affidavit, had indicated that he paid for Moitra's travel expenses, both domestically and abroad.

> No question regarding Mahua Moitra's personal life was asked at the hearing by ethics committee. I will retire from politics if it is proved, as the entire proceedings of the committee is recorded verbatim
>
> Nishikant Dubey, BJP MP

Dubey refuted Moitra's allegations, emphasising that the committee's proceedings were recorded verbatim, just like parliamentary debates. He challenged Congress and JDU MPs to produce a copy of the committee's proceedings if they had the courage to do so.

Additionally, BJP IT chief Amit Malviya too criticised Moitra, claiming that she admitted to sharing her login credentials. He questioned the arrangement for typing her questions and speculated about the involvement of Darshan Hiranandani's office in Dubai.

Govt appoints nodal officers to curb film piracy

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

IN another step towards curtailing piracy, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (I&B) has empowered the officials of Central Board of Film Certification (CBFC) to issue directions to social media intermediaries to remove illegally appropriated film content uploaded in contravention of copyright. Following an order from officials designated as nodal officers, the online platforms will be under obligation to take down the pirated content within 48 hours.

Briefing about the development, secretary of I&B ministry Apurva Chandra on Friday said that an institutional mechanism is being set up to keep a check on piracy. A notification empowering the officials in this regard was issued on Friday.

"As per the amended Cinematograph Act, regional officers in CBFC have been empowered to issue orders to remove pirated films from any source such as Telegram and YouTube following a complaint. The platforms will need to act and remove the unlawfully reproduced content within 48 hours," added Chandra.

All nine CBFC regional offices, the office of the CEO at its headquarters in Mumbai, and the ministry will have separate nodal officers to deal with the complaints.

KEEPING PIRACY UNDER CHECK

Film industry incurs ₹20,000 crore loss every year due to piracy

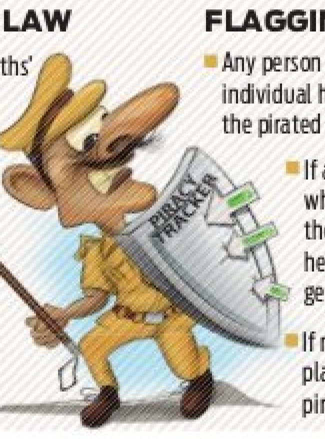
RAP FROM LAW

- Minimum 3 months' imprisonment extendable upto 3 years
- Fine of ₹3 lakh or 5% of the movie's production cost



FLAGGING CONTENT

- Any person such as producer, director or individual holding original copyright can flag the pirated content and seek its removal
- If a complaint is raised by a person who does not hold the copyright, the nodal officer may hold hearings to decide the genuineness of the complaint
- If nodal officers direct so, online platforms will have to take down the pirated content within 48 hours

The Cinematograph (Amendment) Bill 2023, which intends to prevent financial losses to the film industry due to prevalent piracy, was passed by both Houses of Parliament in July. The Bill has made provisions for punishment of minimum three months' jail and fine of ₹3 lakh or 5 per cent of the movie's production cost, for creating pirated contents. The imprisonment can be extended up to three years.

According to the government estimates, the film industry incurs a loss of ₹20,000 crore every year due to piracy.

Union I&B minister Anurag Singh Thakur said piracy has always been a major cause of concern. "It takes years and a lot of energy to create good content, but people involved in piracy take a few minutes to copy them and earn lakhs. Notification pertaining to nodal officers is a step to curb piracy," said Thakur.

The ministry said that any person such as producer, director or individual holding original copyright can flag pirated content and seek its removal. If a complaint is raised by a person who does not hold the copyright or is not authorised by the copyright holder, the nodal officer may hold hearings to decide the genuineness of the complaint before issuing orders.

India a 'bright spot' amid churning in geopolitical landscape: Army chief

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

INDIA'S Vice President Jagdeep Dhankar on Friday, highlighted the paramount importance of seeking peace through strength amidst the current global upheaval.

"Peace is not an option. It is the only way. Its disruption leads to human misery and global challenges. There is a need to seek peace at all costs — through ideation, advocacy, outreach, persuasion and dialogue — as also through strength, the latter one being of extreme importance," he said.

Dhankar delivered this message during the inaugural Chanakya Defence Dialogue, a flagship National Security Event organised by the Indian Army and the Centre of Land Warfare Studies.

The global landscape has witnessed concerning developments, such as the expanding arc of conflict and deterrence failures, particularly in Ukraine and West Asia. Dhankar expressed his worry that globalisation and economic interdependencies are failing to prevent conflicts.

In his plenary address, Army Chief General Manoj Pande noted the growing importance of hard power due to a changing global landscape. He emphasised the resurgence of "national security" in international affairs and the renewed prominence of hard power.

"Not only is the Cold War peace dividend dwindling, the world seems to be fracturing in myriad ways. New divisions are coming to the fore between the East and the West as also between the Global North and the Global South," the Army chief said.

Terming India as a "bright spot" amidst such despondency, he said, "Even as Grey Zone contestations in non-traditional domains seems to be expanding, so is the probability and arch of all out conflicts. India remains a bright spot."

India shines as a bright spot. Dhankar and Pande emphasised India's commitment to sovereignty, peaceful dispute resolution, and adherence to international rules and regulations. Pande also hinted at expanding defence cooperation by establishing defence wings in new locations worldwide.

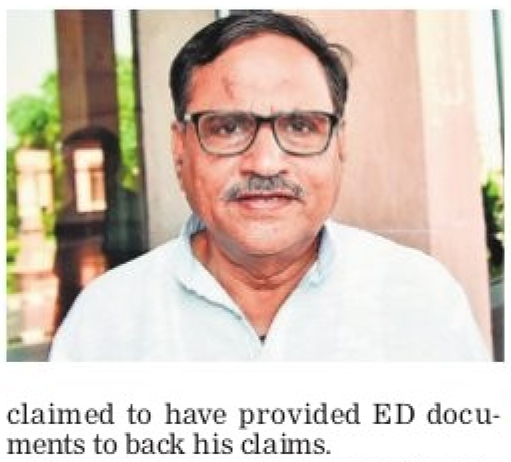
Jal Jeewan Mission: ED raids Raj min, IAS officer

ASNANI @ Jaipur

The ED has the right to carry out raids. I have no objection. They can take all documents and files. If they come to question me, I will reply. All allegations against me are baseless.

Mahesh Josh, PHED Minister



AHEAD of elections in Rajasthan, the Enforcement Directorate once again took significant action on Friday by conducting raids on the Public Health Engineering Department (PHED) Minister Mahesh Joshi's office in the alleged corruption in a drinking water project.

The ED also raided the premises of additional chief secretary and senior IAS officer Subodh Aggarwal who serves in the water supply department. He, too, was targeted as a part of an ongoing investigation into an alleged scam related to the Jal Jeevan Mission.

Information has also surfaced about similar raids at the locations of other government officials.

The Jal Jeevan Mission scheme was meant to provide drinking water in rural areas and the costs were to be shared on a 50:50% by the state and the Central government. But in the purchase and laying of the pipelines for this scheme in Rajasthan, a huge scam is being alleged by the BJP.

BJP MP Kirori Lal Meena has alleged a scam of Rs 20,000 crore in the drinking water project and claimed Joshi was involved in it. Meena claimed contractors submitted false experience certificates and documents for tenders for the project. In September, Meena claimed to have provided ED documents to back his claims.

The searches on Friday are the latest in a series of such raids in poll-bound Rajasthan. According to sourc, the agency's team arrived at ACS Subodh Aggarwal's residence and other locations within the water supply department at 8 am on Friday. Simultaneously, another ED team conducted searches at the Secretariat, where they focused on Aggarwal's office as well as that of PHED Minister Mahesh Joshi.

About two months ago, the ED conducted raids at various places in Jaipur, leading to the discovery of Rs 2.5 crore in cash and gold bricks. The ED also recovered numerous documents from the residences of businessmen Sanjay Badaya and Kalyan Singh Kavia, allegedly revealing the involvement of senior IAS officer Aggarwal, who serves as the ACS of the Water Department.

Next-gen shifting family loyalty towards parties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

REBEL sons and grandsons of old BJP and Congress families have taken up the gauntlet of bidding adieu to their families' decades-old loyalty to the two main political players in the poll-bound Madhya Pradesh.

In southwestern Burhanpur district, young Harshvardhan Singh Chauhan, son of six-time former MP and ex-state BJP chief late Nandkumar Singh Chauhan, is contesting as an independent, after failing to get a BJP ticket.

He is taking on former MLA and ex-minister Archana Chitnis (the ruling BJP candidate) and sitting independent MLA Surendra Singh 'Shera Bhaiya,' besides the rebel Congress candidate Nafis Mansa Khan as AIMIM candidate.

Harshvardhan recently ended his family's decades-long association with the BJP, by resigning from the ruling party on Thursday, along with some other powerful local leaders loyal to his father, who died of COVID-19 infection complications in 2021.

In the adjoining western MP's Dewas district's Khategaon seat, Deepak Joshi, the former MP minister son of ex-CM and BJP stalwart late Kailash Joshi has been fielded by the Congress. This is despite a large section of the opposition party's local leadership being averse to Joshi's candidature against second-time BJP MLA Ashish Govind Sharma from the Brahmin-dominated seat.

In the Gwalior-Chambal region's Mungaoli seat Yadvendra Singh Yadav (son of former BJP MLA late Rao Deshraj Singh Yadav, is in the fray as Congress candidate against the sitting BJP MLA and Jyotiraditya Scindia loyalist MP minister Brijendra Singh Yadav.

In Gwalior district's Gwalior-East seat, the sitting MLA and the Congress candidate Satish Sikarwar (whose wife is Gwalior mayor) hails from a BJP family. Satish's father Gajraj Singh Sikarwar was twice BJP MLA from Sumawali seat of Morena district, while his brother Satyapal Singh Sikarwar won the same seat for the BJP in 2013 polls. Satish too had contested his first Vidhan Sabha polls as BJP candidate from Gwalior-East in 2018, but lost to Congress Munnalal.

Changing times

In Gwalior-East, sitting MLA and Cong candidate Satish Sikarwar is from a BJP family. Satish's father Gajraj Singh Sikarwar was twice BJP MLA.

Fear of probe agencies grips candidates

Former MLA and the Congress candidate from Semariya seat of Rewa district, Abhay Mishra recently emerged before press, wearing a 'kafan' (shroud) on his head and claimed that he can soon come under the scanner of ED for "preventing him" to contest the upcoming polls. He went on to allege that he and his family members would also be targeted and put behind bars. His claims came just two days after former CM Digvijaya Singh alleged that ED raids would soon conduct raids in MP. Abhay, the ex-BJP MLA, had twice hopped from BJP to Congress in just two months before getting Congress ticket.

Who will be the real Jai-Veeru of MP politics?

Jai-Veeru, the famous characters of two close friends enacted by Amitabh and Dharmendra in the 1975 classic Sholay is right now dominating the statae. With the BJP claiming differences between ex-CMs Digvijaya Singh and Kamal Nath over ticket distribution, Congress in-charge for MP Randeep Surjewala said that Nath and Singh are like "Jai and Veeru". On the other hand, union minister Narendra Singh Tomar, contesting from Dimani of Morena, too claimed that he and CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan are close friends. Only December 3 results will tell who are r"Jai and Veeru" of MP.

Chouhan challenged by 'Hanuman', 'Mirchi Baba'

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan, hoping for a sixth win from his home seat Budhni in Sehore, is facing two newcomers. While the Congress has fielded actor Vikram Mastal Sharma (who enacted the role of Hanuman in the 2008 tele-series Ramayana), controversial Hindu godman Swami Vairagyanand aka Mirchi Baba has been fielded by the Samajwadi Party. Mirchi Baba had campaigned for Digvijaya Singh during 2019 Lok Sabha polls. Released from jail in an alleged case of rape a few weeks back, Mirchi Baba is contesting against CM, to avenge being "framed up in false case." Observers say that the battle for Budhni is going to be far more colourful than in the past.

CPI general secretary D Raja said on Friday that leaders of Opposition INDIA bloc will meet after the assembly elections in five states to decide future course of action against the BJP.

Responding to a query from reporters, CPI leader said the issue of seat-sharing will also be taken up for discussion at the next meeting of Opposition alliance partners. The formula of seat-sharing for the Lok Sabha polls has already been finalised, he added.

Raja, who was in the state capital to attend party's 'BJP hatao, desh bachao' rally on Thursday, said that the leaders of INDIA bloc would meet after the assembly polls in five states and everything would be discussed threadbare. Raja had earlier called on RJD chief Lalu Prasad at the residence of former chief minister Rabri Devi in the state capital and held discussions on seat-sharing and other issues related to next year's Lok Sabha election.

To a particular question, CPI leader said BJP was perplexed over non-BJP parties coming together to contest the Lok Sabha election. .

Denying promotion to women officers is arbitrary, says SC

JAISON WILSON @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday pulled up the Army for "arbitrarily" denying promotion to women permanent commission officers, and asked the authorities to reconvene the special selection board within two weeks for their promotion, without disturbing those already promoted to Colonel rank.

Hearing a batch of pleas filed by women officers who were denied empanelment for promotion to the rank of Colonel, a bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud noted that the cut-off for considering their confidential reports (CRs) for promotion was arbitrary and aimed at equating them to their male counterparts.

"Women officers have been compelled to move this court for realisation of their rights. The manner in which the women officers have been denied empanelment as Colonel based on selection process is arbitrary," remarked the bench, also comprising judges J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, adding it is contrary to the policy circular of Army and earlier apex court orders.

In a landmark verdict on February 17, 2020, the Supreme Court had directed that women officers in the Army be granted permanent commission, rejecting the Centre's stand on their "physiological limitations" as being based on "sex stereotypes" and "gender discrimination".

The bench noted that the policy framework set out makes it clear that all CRs after nine years of service were required to be taken into consideration.

Defending their part, the Army and the Centre relied on their policy framework and a Supreme Court judgment of March 2021, which laid common benchmarks for men and women Short Service Commission officers to be considered for permanent commission.

The apex court also rejected the submission that there was inadequate number of vacancies for accommodating the officers.

"In this regard, it is important to note that the court recorded in its November 21, 2022 order the statement of army authorities that 150 vacancies were to be made available pursuant to our judgment. 108 vacancies have been filled. The ground of unavailability of vacancies will therefore not be available," it said.

Manipur violence: Narrow escape for Meitei radical group head

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

Meitei group chief Mayengbam Pramot Singh's car riddled with bullet holes | EXPRESS

STRIFE-torn Manipur continued to remain restive on Friday as an abortive bid was made on the life of a Meitei radical group chief by unknown gunmen while several Kuki-Zo villagers allegedly fled their homes in the Tengnoupal district amid an operation by police commandos to nab the killer of a police officer.

Two gunmen, who were reportedly travelling in a car, fired at the vehicle of Mayengbam Pramot Singh (60), chief of radical group Meitei Leepun, but he, as well as his driver, escaped unhurt.

The vehicle was hit by six bullets. Singh was on his way to attend a meeting at the office of Meitei Leepun in Langol under Lamphel police station in Imphal when the attack was carried out by the miscreants.

Nobody claimed responsibility for the attack. Moreover, no arrest has been made so far in the connection.

Earlier this month, a local court had issued an arrest warrant against Singh in a case registered by the police in Churachandpur district in June for allegedly promoting enmity between communities and making statements prejudicial to national integration.

Meanwhile, the state's 10 Kuki-Zo MLAs, including seven from ruling BJP, alleged that men, women and children fled their homes in the Tengnoupal district following "atrocities and inhumane excesses" by the police personnel.

The fresh trouble in the state broke out after a subdivisional police officer was shot dead by the Kuki militants at Moreh in the Tengnoupal district earlier this week. After the incident, additional forces were rushed to the India-Myanmar border town to control the situation.

In a joint statement, the tribal MLAs alleged that in the ongoing operations in Moreh, the state forces resorted to arson, indiscriminate firing, and looting of civilian properties, vehicles and household items, including documents, gold and cash and other belongings.

"The unprovoked brutality forced common people, including women and children, to flee into a nearby jungle. Several women have been mercilessly assaulted/molested by the commandos and admitted to the local hospital," the Kuki legislators alleged.

They appealed to the Ministry of Home Affairs to immediately intervene and ensure the withdrawal of the commandos deployed in Moreh and other Kuki-Zomi-Hmar tribal areas and replace them with central forces. Further, they demanded that all the erring personnel be booked as per law.

The ethnic violence which broke out in the state on May 3 has left over 200 people dead.

Kolkata Police, CAB at loggerheads over 'glitches' in ticket sales for India-SA tie

Cricket enthusiast in front of a ticket counter | EXPRESS

KOLKATA Police and the Cricket Association of Bengal (CAB) are at loggerheads over the allegations of black-marketing of ticket sales for the upcoming World Cup match between India and South Africa at the Eden Gardens in Kolkata on Sunday.

Several cricket enthusiasts have complained of failing to get a ticket to the stadium which has a sitting capacity of over 67,000. According to sources, many assembled near the ticket counter (near a football stadium) but their efforts went in vain as tickets were unavailable.

Probing the allegations, the Kolkata police said they are unsatisfied with the reply by the CAB and bookmyshow.com—the online platform to buy e-tickets—over alleged black-marketing and unavailability of tickets and have asked them to send their representatives for questioning.

"We have received cryptic responses. But we need to know the exact nature of ticket booking. Once we get a clear idea from the CAB and bookmyshow, we will ask BCCI officials to come," said Kolkata police commissioner Vineet Goyal.

Over black-marketing, the police comissioner said, "We are keeping a close watch over it. Seven persons have been arrested and 55 tickets have been seized. We are also in the process of finding who these tickets had been sold to."

Sourav Ganguly, former Indian team skipper and ex-BCCI president Sourav Ganguly has suggested that police can take control of ticket sales.

"Nobody has control over ticket sales. Once the tickets are out of the BCCI office or Eden Gardens, there is no control over the tickets or the people who purchase them. The capacity of the stadium is only 67,000 and the demand for the ticket is very high," Ganguly told reporters on Thursday.

Snehasish Ganguly, brother of Sourav Ganguly, is the acting CAB president.

Post-Joshimath, more curbs on new buildings

Destruction post-landslide in Joshimath | FILE

Joshimath disaster

It was the first week of this year, in January, when Joshimath was hit by a geological phenomenon known as land subsidence, or sinking of the surface due to the removal of water, oil, natural gas, or other mineral resources from the ground. Spread over an area of 2,458 square km, Joshimath is one of the six tehsils (blocks) in Uttarakhand's Chamoli.

TAKING a cue from the Joshimath land submergence and similar incidents in two other cities of the state, the Uttarakhand government has set new standards for future buildings, keeping in mind the load-bearing capacity in all plain and hilly areas.

According to sources in the state disaster management office, "the height of the building is fixed at 30 metres in the plains of the state and 12 metres in the hilly area, but the government is now going to change it.

"It is believed that there may be some reduction in the height of buildings to be built in the future in the mountainous areas," a source said.

During the Joshimath land disaster, incidents of land submergence were also reported in Karnaprayag and Vikas Nagar area of Dehradun district.

In an exclusive conversation with The New Indian Express, state disaster management secretary Dr Ranjit Singh Sinha said, "The same standards cannot be applied in every hill town given the geographical conditions of the state. In addition to the 30-degree slope standard, along with the soil carrying capacity, it has to be seen that there is no stream current or other water impact around the affected site."

Apart from Joshimath, we are carrying out geographical inspection of all the hill towns of the state by the state disaster management". The situation with Joshimath was that on the same side as there was a slope of the hills, there was also a slope of rocks, so the situation there became more complicated.

"The government will monitor the geographical investigation of hill stations by an expert panel to check soil strength and slope conditions as well as otherstudies", Secretary Sinha said, adding that "it will be discussed once the report comes".

Further, among the important proposals being implemented by the government are "those constructing on plots of more than 500 square metres will have to create green zones as well as plant trees".

In the proposal, the government has also decided that "it will be mandatory to have 10-15 per cent house area for greenery in a plot of 300 yards".

Solar power projects will have to be installed in large houses, such as UPCL's solar roof top or Ureda's small solar power project. This will save electricity and also reduce carbon emissions.

Group housing, maps of large buildings will be passed only when they get a green-building certificate from the authorities.

Bankman-Fried found guilty of massive cryptocurrency fraud

NEW YORK

SAM Bankman-Fried, the one-time cryptocurrency golden boy accused by US prosecutors of stealing billions of dollars of his customers' money, was found guilty on Thursday on all counts and faces up to 110 years behind bars. The jury reached its decision in just five hours after a trial in New York lasting five weeks. Sentencing for the man widely known as "SBF" will take place on March 28, 2024.

US Attorney Damian Williams said in a statement after the verdict was announced Bankman-Fried had "perpetrated one of the biggest financial frauds in American history, a multibillion dollar scheme designed to make him the king of crypto."

US attorney for the Southern District of New York Damian Williams addresses the media after a guilty verdict was reached on the trial of Samuel Bankman-Fried | AFP

"The crypto currency industry might be new, players like SBF might be new, but this kind of fraud, this kind of corruption is as old as time and we have no patience for it."

Mark Cohen, Bankman-Fried's lawyer, said they were "very disappointed with the result." "Mr Bankman-Fried maintains his innocence and will continue to vigorously fight the charges against him," he added. A graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and a billionaire before the age of 30, Bankman-Fried conquered the crypto world at breakneck speed, turning FTX, a small start-up he co-founded in 2019, into the world's second-largest exchange platform.

But in November 2022, the FTX empire imploded, unable to cope with massive withdrawal requests from customers panicked to learn that some of the funds stored at the company had been committed to risky operations at Bankman-Fried's personal hedge fund, Alameda Research. AFP

Halt Gaza attacks or face regional conflict, Hezbollah chief tells US

In first speech since start of war, Nasrallah says his forces ready to face US warships

BEIRUT

HEZBOLLAH chief Hassan Nasrallah said Friday that his Iran-backed group was not afraid of US warships and "all options" were open for an expansion of the Israel-Hamas conflict into Lebanon.

In his first speech since war broke out last month between Hamas militants and Israel, the head of the powerful Lebanese Shiite movement said the United States was responsible for the Gaza war and that Washington could prevent a regional conflagration by halting attacks on the Palestinian territory.

Hassan Nasrallah

"Whoever wants to prevent a regional war — and this is addressed to the Americans — must quickly stop the aggression on Gaza," he said.

"America is entirely responsible for the ongoing war on Gaza and its people, and Israel is simply a tool of execution," Nasrallah said in a televised broadcast, calling the conflict "decisive".

The United States "impedes a ceasefire and the end of the aggression", he added.

During the highly anticipated speech, broadcast as part of an event in Beirut's southern suburbs, a Hezbollah stronghold, Nasrallah warned Israel against attacking Lebanon, saying that "all options are open on our Lebanese front".

"Your fleet in the Mediterranean do not scare us... we are ready to face the fleet you threaten us with," Nasrallah said, also addressing the United States.

The United States called on Hezbollah not to "take advantage" of the Israel-Hamas war after the Lebanese militants' leader said "all options" were open.

"We and our partners have been clear: Hezbollah and other actors — state or non-state — should not try to take advantage of the ongoing conflict," a spokesperson from the National Security Council said.

"The United States does not seek escalation or widening of the conflict that Hamas brought onto Israel," the spokesperson said. "This has the potential of becoming a bloodier war between Israel and Lebanon than 2006.

The United States does not want to see this conflict expand into Lebanon.

"The likely devastation for Lebanon and its people would be unimaginable and is avoidable." Agencies

Lebanon in economic pain. Will that deter Hezbollah?

A vehicle damaged in rocket attack from southern Lebanon on the Israeli city of Kiryat Shmona | AFP

Since the beginning of the war, Hezbollah, an ally of Hamas, had taken calculated steps to keep Israel's military busy on its border with Lebanon, but not to the extent of igniting an all-out war

70 killed in Lebanon

The Israeli military said seven of their soldiers and one civilian had been killed on the northern border as of Friday. More than 50 Hezbollah fighters and 10 militants with allied groups, as well as 10 civilians, including a Reuters journalist, have been killed on the Lebanese side of the border

HEZBOLLAH IN A TIGHT SPOT

A full-on conflict would be costly for Hezbollah, which fought a 34-day war with Israel back in 2006 that ended with a draw, but not before Israeli bombing reduced vast swaths of southern Lebanon to rubble

A new all-out war would also displace hundreds of thousands of Hezbollah's supporters and cause wide damage at a time when Lebanon is in the throes of a historic four-year economic meltdown

ISRAEL'S MOST SERIOUS THREAT

Israel considers the Iran-backed Lebanese Shiite militant group its most serious immediate threat, estimating that Hezbollah has around 1,50,000 rockets and missiles aimed at Israel, as well as drones and surface-to-air and surface-to-sea missiles

Israel completes encirclement of Gaza City

RAFAH

ISRAELI ground troops encircled Hamas stronghold Gaza City on Friday, after close ally the United States urged "concrete steps" to minimise civilian casualties.

Ahead of top US diplomat Antony Blinken's scheduled visit to Israel Friday, the country's military said it had "completed the encirclement" of Gaza's largest city -- signalling a new phase in the month-long war against Hamas.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu also on Thursday hailed victories so far, telling a group of elite soldiers that Israeli forces were "advancing" despite "painful losses".

An Israeli soldier inspecting the entrance to a tunnel in Gaza Strip | AFP

"We are in the midst of the campaign. We have very impressive successes" he said at a base near Tel Aviv. " We are already more than on the outskirts of Gaza City. We are advancing."

Israel's military describes Gaza City as "the centre of the Hamas terror organisation". But it is also home to some half a million Palestinians who have endured weeks of withering aerial bombardments, dwindling supplies and daily carnage.

Outside Gaza City's Al-Quds hospital, displaced residents seeking shelter from Israeli strikes told AFP that civilians would not withstand the barrage much longer.

"This is not a life. We need a safe place for our kids," said 50-year-old Hiyam Shamlakh. But yet more carnage seems to lay ahead, as the conflict turns to urban and underground warfare -- with Hamas fighting from a tunnel complex believed to span hundreds of kilometres. AFP

14 Pak soldiers killed as terrorists attack 2 vehicles carrying security forces

QUETTA

AT least 14 Pakistani soldiers were killed on Friday when militants ambushed two vehicles carrying security forces in the country's restive south-western province of Balochistan. Friday's toll is the heaviest suffered by the military in Balochistan province this year where separatists and militants have stepped up their attacks since a ceasefire deal between the Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) and the Pakistan government ended in November 2022.

According to a statement by the Pakistan Army, the incident happened when terrorists ambushed two vehicles carrying soldiers from Pasni to the Ormara area of Gwadar district of the province.

The sanitisation operation is being carried out in the area and perpetrators of the heinous act will be hunted down and brought to justice, the statement said.

No further details were provided by the military media wing. Balochistan's caretaker Chief Minister Ali Mardan Domki strongly condemned the attack and vowed that the terrorists behind the strike would be brought to justice.

The attack comes just two days after security forces killed six terrorists in the Sambas area of Zhob district in the province on Wednesday.

Earlier in the day, a bomb targeting a police convoy killed five people and injured over 20 others in Dera Ismail Khan district of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. Throughout the year, terrorists have been targeting security forces in Balochistan. Two soldiers were killed in Awaran district last Sunday. Pakistan has been facing a rise in violence in the wake of the Taliban getting power in Afghanistan in August 2021.

2 down with dengue in California, first case of local transmission in the US state

PASADENA

TWO people in Southern California have come down with dengue fever without travelling outside the United States, where the mosquito-borne illness is rare, officials said.

A Pasadena resident was confirmed to have dengue last month but is recovering, officials said. "This is the first confirmed case of dengue in California not associated with travel and is instead an extremely rare case of local transmission in the continental United States," the Pasadena Health Department said.

The case remains under investigation, but it appears that someone became infected with the dengue virus, returned home and was bitten by a mosquito that passed it on to the local resident, according to Pasadena health officials.

The WHO has warned that dengue cases will become more common in the US due to warmer temperatures

On Wednesday, Long Beach officials announced another domestically contracted dengue case and said that person has recovered.

Both cities' health departments said the risk of exposure to others was low.

Dengue is caused by several related viruses and is spread through the bite of infected Aedes mosquitoes. It is common in tropical areas and causes high fevers, headaches, nausea, vomiting, muscle pain and, in the most serious cases, internal bleeding leading to death. About 4 billion people, or about half the world's population, live in areas where dengue is a risk, and each year there are up to 400 million infections and about 40,000 deaths, according to the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

However, dengue is rare in the US and its territories, with only 583 locally acquired cases reported so far this year, according to CDC data: 520 in Puerto Rico, 62 in Florida and one in Texas.

The infection rate worldwide has been rising, prompting new efforts to fight it. The cases come weeks after WHO chief scientist said dengue will become more common in the US this decade due to warmer temperatures. AP

Pak Army to start farming to boost food self-sufficiency

ISLAMABAD

MONTHS after it decided to carry out farming in Punjab province, the Pakistan Army is now all set to start cultivation on thousands of acres in the restive Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province as part of the plans for food self-sufficiency, according to media reports. The powerful Pakistan Army, which has ruled coup-prone Pakistan for more than half of its 75-plus years of existence, has hitherto wielded considerable power in matters of security and foreign policy.

However, it is possibly the first time that it is venturing into agriculture to club peacebuilding and activities for increasing agriculture productivity for the ever-in-turmoil province.

"As a start initially, the army would farm on 1,000 acres of land and then expand to 41,000 acres in South Waziristan's Zarmalam area which was barren for years in a bid to enhance agricultural productivity of the region and promote food self-sufficiency," The News International reported.

"This project is expected to enhance the agricultural productivity of the region and promote food self-sufficiency," it reported.

32 DEAD IN HUGE BLAZE AT IRAN DRUG REHAB CENTRE

Tehran: Thirty-two people died when a massive blaze ripped through a drug rehab centre in northern Iran early on Friday, local media reported. "Thirty-two people have been killed in the fire" which erupted at a drug rehabilitation centre in Langarud, a city in the northern Gilan province, said Fars news agency quoting the province's deputy governor Mohammad Jalai. Jalai said 16 others were wounded in the blaze, four of whom were in "critical condition". The blaze began during the night when a heater caught fire with the flames setting light to the curtains, he told Fars. Drug abuse has been a long-running problem in Iran

UKRAINE REPORTS MASSIVE RUSSIAN DRONE ATTACK

Kyiv: Ukrainian officials said Friday that Russia had launched a "massive" drone attack on its cities and infrastructure overnight, warning that Moscow could be escalating its strikes ahead of winter. "Last night there were about 40 'Shaheds'. More than half of them were shot down," President Volodymyr Zelensky said in a post on social media. Russia has used hundreds of Iranian-made self-detonating Shahed drones to attack targets across Ukraine since the start of the conflict. Concerns are growing that Russian forces will step up missile and drone strikes in a bid to cripple Ukraine's energy infrastructure through the upcoming winter.

Air India adds 400 weekly winter flights

Expansion of routes will be aided by deliveries of more than 30 widebody and narrowbody aircraft to its fleet

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

WITH an aim to increase market share, Air India is adding more than 400 weekly flights to its domestic and international route network until March 2024, as part of the Winter Schedule '23.

The winter session for the aviation industry starts on the last Sunday of October and concludes on the last Saturday of March.

In the domestic market, the Tata Group airline is adding more than 200 weekly flights on several routes touching major Indian cities such as Mumbai and Delhi. On its international route network, the carrier would operate over 200 weekly flights, of which over 80 weekly flights have already been added.

This expansion of routes will be aided by deliveries of over 30 widebody and narrowbody aircraft to its fleet, including six A350s, four B777s and 20 A320neos, between now and March 2024. These inductions are a part of Air India's record purchase of 470 aircraft from Airbus and Boeing in a deal valued at $70 billion (based on list prices).

Currently, Air India (excluding Air India Express) operates about 2900 flights a week with a fleet of 120 aircraft. About 32% of 2900 flights operate on international routes. The airline had a market share of 9.2% in September 2023, according to Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) data. The market share of Air India group airlines –Vistara and AirAsia India- stood at 10% and 6.7% respectively.

Campbell Wilson, chief executive officer and managing director of Air India, in a mail to employees said, "We are also hoping to launch four new international stations in the next few months, of which we will share more details in due course, as well as more interline partnerships. On the latter, our latest partner is Alaska Airlines, which will help expand our connectivity to multiple destinations in the US, Mexico, and Canada."

Air India also has plans to add four new international destinations to its network, which it will announce soon.

At the onset of the Winter Schedule '23, the airline claims that it has ramped up frequency by 25x weekly flights (each way) on eight international routes across points in Southeast Asia, United States, and Europe. This includes the weekly frequencies on Mumbai-Singapore increasing from 7x to 13x, Delhi-Bangkok from 7x to 14x, Delhi-Dhaka from 7x to 12x, Delhi-Newark (New Jersey) from 3x to 4x, Delhi-San Francisco from 10x to 11x, Delhi-Washington D.C. from 3x to 4x, Delhi-Copenhagen from 3x to 4x, Delhi-Milan from 4x to 5x, Mumbai-Doha from 7x to 9x.

Air India has also opened flights on four new routes, including Bengaluru-Singapore, Kochi-Doha, Kolkata-Bangkok, and Mumbai-Melbourne.

IndiGo PAT drops 94% QoQ on rising fuel price, rupee fall

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HIT hard by falling value of Indian rupee against the US dollar and rise in jet fuel prices, country's largest airline IndiGo on Friday reported a 94% decline in sequential profit for the quarter ending September 2023 (Q2FY24).

The profit after tax (PAT) of InterGlobe Aviation, the parent of the country's largest airline IndiGo, came down to ₹189 crore for the September quarter as against a PAT of ₹3,091 crore reported in June quarter (Q1FY24). The airline had posted a loss of ₹1,583 crore in the year-ago quarter (Q2FY23).

It incurred a foreign exchange loss of ₹617 crore in Q2. Rupee, owing to sustained foreign outflow and strengthening of the dollar index, is under tremendous pressure for past few months and has hit multiple lows.

Rupee closed 6 paise lower at 83.28 against the US dollar on Friday. IndiGo's best ever quarterly profit in the June quarter was characterised by skyrocketing airfares following the collapse of Go First and softening fuel prices. Aviation turbine fuel (ATF) between June and September this year witnessed multiple hikes. ATF accounts for an airline's 40% operational expenses, the sharp increase in its prices is likely to have put additional pressure on the airline's profitability.

Revenue in the seasonally weak September quarter came at ₹15,503 crore. In Q1FY24, the revenue was ₹17,161 crore, the airline'e highest ever.

IndiGo's revenue per available seat kilometre (RASK) came down from ₹5.12 in Q1FY24 to ₹4.25 in Q2FY24. The airline's yield (₹/km) fell from ₹5.18 in Q1FY24 to ₹4.44 in Q2FY24. The two important metrics of an airline's performance registered a year-on-year decline.

Fuel cost for IndiGo grew to ₹5,856 crore in Q2FY24 from ₹5,228 crore in Q1FY24. Cost per available seat kilometre (CASK) remained stagnant sequentially at ₹4.19. Pieter Elbers, CEO of IndiGo said, "With our clear strategy and focus on execution, we have completed a full cycle and remained profitable for the last four quarters."

SOUTH KOREA

OCT CONSUMER INFLATION ACCELERATES FOR 3RD MONTH

South Korea's consumer inflation jumped to 3.8% in October amid higher food costs. The increase in inflation for the third month in a row is keeping policymakers on edge as they are monitoring whether current interest rates are tight enough to bring down price rise. The consumer price index of the country marked the fastest gain since March 2023. The index increased 0.3% on a monthly basis. The higher inflation could force the Bank of Korea (BOK) to keep the higher-for-longer interest rates. BOK kept rates unchanged on October 19 and warned of inflationary risks from the Israel-Hamas conflict and global oil prices. By categories, prices of fruits rose 24.6% in October from the same month the previous year, coffee prices surged 11.9%. An index of energy prices combining petroleum and electricity prices jumped 2.8% from a year earlier. Most analysts expect the BOK to hold rates through the first quarter of next year and cut them by 25 basis points to 3.25% in the second quarter of 2024.

INDONESIA

OCT INFLATION INCHES UP TO 2.56%

Indonesia's annual inflation jumped to 2.56% in October, official data showed on Wednesday. It is in line with expectations and safely within the central bank's target range for 2023. Bank Indonesia (BI) targets inflation within a range of 2% to 4% this year. The target will be lowered to 1.5% to 3.5% in 2024. Inflation in the country has slowed since peaking near 6% in September 2022, after the government raised subsidised fuel prices amid rising global energy prices. The country's central bank has raised interest rates by 250 basis points since August 2022 to cool inflation, with its latest rate hike last month done to stabilise the rupiah's exchange rate and mitigate against the impact of any potential imported inflation. The country's statistics bureau will release core inflation data later on Wednesday. President Joko Widodo last week launched measures to boost the economy and also prop up the country's falling currency.

IMF BEGINS NEGOTIATIONS FOR RELEASE OF $710 MN LOAN

Pakistan and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) have kicked off the much-awaited loan review talks for the release of the $710 million second tranche of a $3 billion bailout package. Caretaker Finance Minister Shamshad Akhtar and the IMF mission chief for Pakistan, Nathan Porter, led their sides to the opening round of two-week-long negotiations to discuss the next tranche of funding, which is based on the cash-strapped country's performance in the first quarter that started in July. Pakistan's Ministry of Finance said in a statement after the meeting reforms under a nine-month bailout package will be completed in March next year. He said the government's measures in some critical areas underscored the importance of continuing these efforts to stay on track for ensuring the country's economic stability. Porter inquired the Pakistani authorities about the next general elections and the functioning of the Special Investment Facilitation Council, according to The Express Tribune newspaper.

Zomato reports second consecutive profitable quarter, net profit at ₹36 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FOODTECH firm Zomato on Friday reported its second consecutive profitable quarter as more people ordered food from its platform.

The company's profit after tax (PAT) surged to ₹36 crore in the quarter ending September (Q2FY24) from a PAT of ₹2 crore in the preceding quarter (Q1FY24).

In the September quarter of last financial quarter, Zomato had reported a net loss of ₹251 crore. Zomato's operating income surged to ₹2,848 crore in Q2FY24 from ₹1,661 crore in the year-ago quarter. The company's gross order value (GOV) witnessed a big boost of 47% year-on-year (YoY) to ₹11,422 crore in the second quarter of the current financial year.

Zomato said the gross over value (GOV) growth in its core food delivery vertical was almost entirely led by growth in order volumes, while the average order value was largely flat. Food delivery GOV also by 9% from the June quarter and by 20% from last year.

Zomato informed that it had 3.8 million Gold members by end of September who contributed almost 40% of GOV in its food delivery business. Zomato had 2 million Gold members at the June 2023.

Going ahead, Zomato expects limited uptick in demand in the December quarter despite some additional order volumes due to the Cricket World Cup. "A lot of Indians observe fasts during the Navratri festival and Shradh period. We think the demand uptick would be limited to a handful of match days and hence not very significant," the company said.

Meanwhile, Zomato said its quick commerce business Blinkit turned contribution positive for the first time in the second quarter of the current financial year.

Vedanta seeks PLI scheme for oil and gas sector

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

VEDANTA GROUP Chairman Anil Agarwal urged the government to give incentives for the oil and gas exploration in India in line with production-linked Incentive (PLI) scheme.

Agarwal, in a social media post said that the government is giving subsidies or incentives in all key sectors, but nothing to the oil and gas sector.

"Government is giving subsidies or incentives in all key sectors whether agriculture, electronics or pharma. But not for anything below the ground including oil and gas despite imports touching almost $100 per barrel," said Agarwal.

Vedanta's Cairn Oil & Gas is one of the India's largest private sector exporter and producer of oil . The company targets to contribute around 50% to India's total oil and gas production. The company's footprint covers a total acreage of 65,000 square kilometres, and during FY 2023, the Company reported average gross operated production of 143 kboepd.

Agarwal suggested various reforms including slashing taxes to maximum 30% in line with international benchmarks. He also batted for reforms in licensing norms. Agarwal said that currently, a licence for a well is given only for 10 years, and thus he asked the government to give license for life of the well or at least 70 years for maximum investment. "Clearances take a very long time and delay the process of exploration and production. We need to introduce self-certification to avoid these delays," said Agarwal.

Agarwal said India is rich in oil and gas, and has reserves three times of its annual consumption. Despite the reserves, the country has to import almost 90% of its energy needs. He also highlighted that India's oil demand will double in the next 20 years from 5 million barrels per day to over 10 million barrels a day.

Intel partners Indian manufacturers to boost laptop production

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

AMERICAN chip maker Intel on Friday announced its collaboration with eight electronics manufacturing companies in India to accelerate laptop production in India.

The company, in a statement, said the collaboration between Intel and the Indian manufacturing ecosystem is aimed at enabling them to meet both domestic and global demand. The companies Intel is partnered with include Bhagwati Products Ltd, Dixon Technologies India Ltd, Kaynes Technology India Ltd, Optiemus Electronics Ltd, Panache Digilife Ltd, Smile Electronics Ltd, Syrma SGS Technology Ltd, and VVDN Technologies Private Ltd. The company said for certain of these companies, this marks their first foray into laptop manufacturing.

In a bid to make India an electronic manufacturing hub, the government came up with an incentive scheme for large electronics. Nearly 44 companies including HP, Dell, Lenovo, Thompson, Acer, and Asus have applied for the incentive scheme.

Amnesty scheme against GST demand orders

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

FINANCE ministry on Thursday introduced an amnesty scheme for filing appeals against GST demand orders.

The scheme will be open until January 31, 2024, and applies to entities which were unable to submit appeals against tax officer orders before March 31, 2023, according to the notification of the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC). Previously, the GST law allowed a three-month window, extendable by one month, to file appeals against assessment orders. The scheme requires a pre-deposit of 12.5% of the tax demand, compared to the current 10%. This will benefit taxpayers who missed the previous appeal deadline.

Responding to the development, Ankur Gupta, Practice Leader - Indirect Tax at SW India, said, "…Even the high courts (in absence of Tribunal) had taken varying positions whether appeals can be accepted beyond statutory timelines. This amnesty scheme provides relief to all such taxpayers, provided the adjudication order was passed before 31-03-2023."

Apple earns record revenue in India, Tim Cook calls it 'exciting market'

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

APPLE achieved an all-time revenue record in India in the September 2023 quarter, said Apple CEO Tim Cook.

Cook, speaking at the earnings call, also mentioned that the company currently has a low share in a large market (read India), and so there is a lot of headroom there.

The US tech giant posted net sales of $89.5 billion in the September quarter, out of which $6.33 billion came from Asia Pacific (excluding Japan) market. "iPhone revenue came in ahead of our expectations, setting a September quarter record, as well as quarterly records in many markets, including China mainland, Latin America, the Middle-East, South Asia and an all-time record in India. In services, we set an all-time revenue record with double-digit growth and ahead of our expectations," said Cook.

iPhone global revenue in September was $43.8 billion, up 3% year-on-year, and a new September quarter record.

In April 2023, the US-tech giant Apple opened two stores in India at Mumbai and Delhi. Apple, which holds only 5% market share, is growing significantly in India. According to Counterpoint Research, Apple shipped the highest ever 2.5 million units in India for the period of July to September 2023. The company witnessed 34% year-on-year growth.

"We had an all-time revenue record in India. We grew strong double-digits. It's an incredibly exciting market for us and a major focus of ours. We have low share in a large market, and so it would seem there's a lot of headroom there. The ASPs (average selling price), I haven't looked at them most recently, but I'm sure they're lower than the worldwide. But that doesn't bother us at all. It just and in terms of the similarity, I would say, each country has its own journey," said Cook.

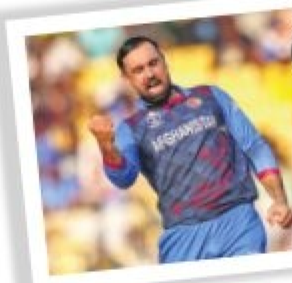
Stokes to have surgery post WC

England all-rounder Ben Stokes is set to undergo a knee surgery after the World Cup in his bid to regain full fitness ahead of next year's Test series in India. The 32-year-old, who has been struggling with his knee for at least 18 months, initially planned to go for the procedure after the Ashes but later decided to come out of retirement to play in the World Cup.



When the pressure is on the batsman you know they will make mistakes and bad calls. So that helped us get the four run-outs.

— Mohammad Nabi, Afghanistan player reflecting on match against Netherlands

Straight seam from Shami

Hailing from Uttar Pradesh, fast bowler made his name at Kolkata maidans before rising through ranks and make it to national fold

FIROZ MIRZA @Kolkata

HIS spells had been seminal works of art in seam bowling. Even on wickets that are presumed dead or batting friendly, he has been extracting movement like a tornado. It is only poetic that Mohammed Shami, under the spotlight for his recent successes, gets ready to play his first World Cup match in the city that nurtured him. He was only 16 when he shifted from Uttar Pradesh, where his career was going nowhere, to Kolkata maidans, sometimes earning as little as ₹500 per match. Now, seen as a colossal figure in Indian bowling armoury, suddenly team's fortunes seem to depend on his bowling more than ever.

Shami is spewing fire, literally, almost like what legendary New Zealand all-rounder Richard Hadlee once said about his Pakistani counterpart Imran Khan while comparing their bowling philosophies, 'in see(ing) every ball as like a bullet. There are six balls in an over, and six bullets in a chamber. Each one is a chance to hit.'

Overlooked for the first four matches as Rohit Sharma and Co. sought 'balance' with the bat and ball, the 33-year-old returned for the New Zealand match in Dharamsala and walked away with five wickets, becoming the first Indian bowler to claim two five-fors in the World Cup. The figures of 10/0/54/5, which restricted the Kiwis to 273, also fetched the speedster the Player of the Match award.

Brought on as the first change bowler by captain in the ninth over, Shami struck with the first ball as Kiwi opener Will Young played it on to the stumps. It was a trademark Shami delivery with a very upright seam, close to off stump and extracting movement off the surface to nip back in. He then went on to claim four more wickets including two in a row to bundle out previous edition finalists, who once were threatening to breach the 300-run mark, with ease. The pacer from Uttar Pradesh, who played domestic cricket for Bengal, was in line for a hat-trick when he cleaned up English batters — Ben Stokes and Jonny Bairstow — in successive deliveries in the next match in Lucknow. Shami repeated the feat against Sri Lanka at the Wankhede Stadium as he claimed wickets of Charith Asalanka and Dushan Hemantha in two straight deliveries of his first over. He went on to claim another five-for, second of this edition, to once again bag the Player of the Match trophy. With 45 wickets in 14 matches in World Cup, Shami is the country's leading wicket-taker in the quadrennial event. He now will hope to cement his legacy further when he plays his first World Cup match in Kolkata, the city where he started his career as a pro cricketer 17 years ago. Only 16 when he left Uttar Pradesh, Shami went through the grind on the Kolkata maidans receiving a meagre ₹500 per match at times and sharing a small dingy room with four or five people.

The hard work paid off as taking a note of his performances in the club cricket, he was eventually drafted into the Ranji squad of 15 in 2010 by then Bengal chairman of selectors Sambaran Banerjee. "That day I was watching a first division league match between Town Club and Suburban Club. Shami was playing for Town Club and his team was fielding. He was bowling with the wind and extremely well," Banerjee told this daily recalling the time when he first saw the potential in the pacer.

"His seam position was perfect, the ball was moving either side and he got four wickets before lunch. At the break, I called Town Club captain Shafi Ahmed and told him 'let Shami bowl against the wind on resumption'. Against the wind, he bowled with the same pace, more or less same movement and wonderful bounce. He got two more wickets. That evening, we had a selection meeting for the Ranji Trophy. Straightaway I called Shami in the 15-member squad. Lot of people were surprised as they did not know who Shami was. I took the responsibility and told other selectors that he is one of the finest bowlers, let him play Ranji this season and rest, as they say, is history," Banerjee, who had also served as the national selector, added.

So what makes him special was the quick response from the Ranji-winning wicketkeeper-batter of Bengal, "His smooth run up and seam position, which is the best in the World at the moment. After Glenn McGrath, I have never seen a seam position like this. And of course his right length."

Fittingly, Shami made his Test debut at Eden Gardens in 2013, which coincidentally was also the maiden match in the longest format for Rohit Sharma, India's incumbent captain. Banerjee and a lot more like him, who had seen Shami's rise out of nowhere, will be in the stands to cheer him up when the bowler takes the field on Sunday.

Afghanistan win to boost semifinal bid

AGENCIES @Lucknow

AFGHANISTAN swept past the Netherlands by seven wickets on Friday to boost their chances of reaching the World Cup semifinals.

Chasing 180 to win, Afghanistan reached their target with 111 balls to spare to clinch a fourth win at the tournament to add to victories over defending champions England, Sri Lanka and Pakistan.

They now have eight points, the same as Australia and New Zealand, who currently occupy two of the semifinal qualifying places. Undefeated India have already made sure of a last-four spot with South Africa almost certain to join them.

Next up for Afghanistan on Tuesday is a potential grudge match against five-time champions Australia.

Rahmat Shah hit his third successive half-century (54-ball 52) for Afghanistan while skipper Hashmatullah Shahidi made an undefeated 56, also his third fifty in a row. Rahmat had scored 77 against Pakistan and 62 in the win over Sri Lanka.

Earlier, Afghanistan restricted error-plagued Netherlands to 179 all out.

Brief Scores: Netherlands 179 in 46.3 ovs (Engelbrecht 58, O'Dowd 42; Nabi 3/28) lost to Afghanistan 181/3 in 20 ovs (Hashmatullah 56 n.o, Rahmat 52, Azmatullah 31 n.o).

Pakistan-NZ play game of survival

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

New Zealand players during a training session in Bengaluru, on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

AFTER their comfortable win over Bangladesh, many Pakistan fans on social media dug up a much-mocked phrase that Saqlain Mushtaq used a few years ago to refer to his team's up-and-down form.

'Qudrat ka Nizam', the laws of nature in English, was originally intended by Saqlain as an allegory for how good times follow the bad. Here though, the meaning was a bit different. The chance of rain in Bengaluru on November 9 when New Zealand would take on Sri Lanka was a whopping 70 percent. If a win for Pakistan against the Kiwis was followed by a washout of that game, it would greatly brighten the former's chances of an improbable come-back-from-the-dead entry into the semifinals.

But then, the laws of nature work in mysterious ways. On Friday evening, as the Kiwis were halfway through their practice session on the eve of their match against Pakistan, the skies over the Chinnaswamy Stadium darkened, let out an almighty rumble and started pouring down upon the Garden City. More rain is forecast on Saturday when arguably the most important match of the ODI World Cup is scheduled to be played. It is not like the fixture needed the threat of a washout to make it anymore dramatic. On one hand, you have Pakistan doing the perfect imitation of a Pakistan team — go into the tournament as favourites, put in a couple of underwhelming performances that will cause all to abandon hope, then come back with a result that will leave them with a sliver to hold on to, then suddenly burn bright, peak at the right time and stun the rest of the world into silence. That was how they won the Cup in 1992. Babar Azam's men are on step three of four.

Against Bangladesh, suddenly everything magically fell into place. Shaheen Shah Afridi looked every bit the menacing opening bowler he is supposed to be, and was ably backed up by Mohammed Wasim Jr and Haris Rauf. Then, Fakhar Zaman came back from the sidelines and displayed the sort of aggressiveness that had been the hallmark of Pakistani openers in the past. "Yeah, everybody tells me it's the classic World Cup campaign," Pakistan team director Mickey Arthur said on Friday. "And I hate that, because I'd rather that we were cruising now and things had been really good, it would certainly be a lot less stressful. But again, we got ourselves into a position before the Bangladesh game where it was kind of out of our hands and it's come back in a funny way into our hands again because albeit we've got to win and win big in both our games, it's still in our control, which it wasn't before the Bangladesh game."

On the other hand, you had New Zealand in the middle of what was formerly known as 'doing a South Africa', but is now in danger of being rechristened as 'doing a New Zealand'. Look like one of the better teams of the tournament for a good spell, then throw it all down the drain by choking in the most important matches.

Of course, things have not exactly gone their way off the pitch either. A string of injuries have plagued their campaign, Pacer Matt Henry was the latest in the list and unlike Kane Williamson, Lockie Ferguson and Mark Chapman, his injury was severe enough to rule him out of the event. In their previous game, against South Africa, the Kiwis had no reserve fielders left after Ish Sodhi replaced Henry.

On Saturday, all eleven of the available guys will need to stand up and be counted if the Black Caps are going to get what they want. Unless of course, 'Qudrat ka Nizam' has a say.

We have been crap: Stokes

WHEN England boarded the flight to India for this World Cup, they were the second-favourites to win it. Over the last month or so, the wheels have come off the campaign in a fashion not many would have envisaged. While they have tried to address the issue, they haven't yet managed to pinpoint the reasons behind their poor form. Ben Stokes was blunt with his assessment. "I think the problem is that we have been crap," he said in the pre-match press conference a day ahead of the clash against Australia. Swaroop Swaminathan

CITY OF JOY FOR SOUTH AFRICA

FIROZ MIRZA @Kolkata

Jimmy Cook, who was part of SA's historic tour of India in 1991. SA played their first white-ball international game in Kolkata after their readmission

EDEN Gardens, Kolkata — the country's oldest cricket stadium — is steeped in history. Playing at the venue in itself is like etching one's name in the history books. For South Africa, which will take on India in their World Cup match here on Sunday, the facility, however, holds way too much significance. It all (re) started here for the Proteas.

After facing a lengthy two-decade ban due to apartheid, South Africa were finally readmitted into international cricket in the early 90s. Late Jagmohan Dalmiya, who was then BCCI secretary, played a pivotal role in arranging a short tour comprising three ODIs with the first fixture scheduled in the City of Joy on November 10, 1991.

On their arrival at the Dum Dum Airport in the city, which was then called Calcutta, the team led by 42-year-old Clive Rice was welcomed by a huge gathering that queued up to wave flags and shower flower petals throughout the 15-mile journey to the hotel. The tourists lost the series 1-2 but Rice, who passed away in 2015, perfectly summed up the tour, "I know how Neil Armstrong felt when he stood on the moon."

Since the historic tour, South Africa had played six matches — three Tests and as many ODIs including a 2011 World Cup match against Ireland — at the venue. Like the pre-ban era, they became a force to reckon with in the last 32 years. Amid many highs, they have also witnessed quite a few heartbreaks, especially in the ICC events including the World Cups.

Given their show in the ongoing World Cup so far, South Africa comprising 15 members — eight of whom were not even born when Rice and his men boarded a worn-out 707 Boeing to India — once again are title contenders. They also enjoy a slight edge over India as far as the premier tournament is concerned winning three including the 2011 contest held in Nagpur and losing two.

Temba Bavuma and Co. would not only like to swell that margin further but also mark an end to their barren run in the tournament when they play the hosts here at the venue, where their predecessors started their nation's cricketing journey in the post-apartheid era. "Yes, I think South Africa are playing well enough to reach the semifinals and to challenge to win the World Cup. They certainly can beat anyone on their day but I think India are still favourites," Jimmy Cook, who was part of the 1991 touring squad and entered the record books when he became the first South African batter to face a white ball in international cricket, said.

Presently a coach with the Gary Kirsten Cricket Academy in Oman, the 70-year-old former right-hand batter, who scored 17 runs before being trapped by Javagal Srinath in the match, still remembers the first ball he faced. "The noise grew louder as Kapil Dev ran in to bowl the first ball but my routine of staying calm and focussing on the ball did not change so I just followed my tried and trusted routine."

The enormity of the occasion meant Cook was eager to take the strike but he wanted approval from fellow opener Andrew Hudson, which he got as the latter was nervous. "(Andrew) Hudson was very nervous going out to bat so I asked if he wanted to face the first ball but he was shaking so much that he declined!"

As many as 10 South African players including skipper Rice made their ODI debut in the match except for wicketkeeper-batter Kepler Wessels, who had played for Australia in the past. Cook is still amazed by the hospitality the team received during that short tour. "It was a very memorable tour with many highlights. The reception we received everywhere was incredible and the fans always gave us a great welcome. The firecrackers going off after wickets and boundaries at the matches was a new experience for all of us. Although we lost the series 2-1 it was a great return to International cricket and gave us the opportunity to play against some truly great Indian cricketers."

Oz power player's ability to make Heads turn

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Ahmedabad

Oz opener Travis Head thrives during powerplays and that bodes well for the team moving forward | AP

SELECT BATTERS IN PP SINCE '22

Player	S/R	Avg	Runs
Phil Salt	133.62	34	306
Travis Head	131.95	89.2	446
Rohit Sharma	109.88	69.7	767

A few days after Travis Head had fractured his left hand in the second week of September, a scan had revealed some good news. He wouldn't be needing surgery. As soon as that result was out, a decision had to be taken. Would it be worth their while to pick him as part of the squad when he wouldn't be available to play in the first half of the World Cup?

The selection committee and support staff had to consider all avenues in front of them. If they did go down the route of putting Head on the plane, it would essentially mean they play with 14 men for the first five to six games. It would also mean shifting Mitchell Marsh up the order to open and changing the batting line-up so close to the actual event. On the other hand, not picking him would have meant the absence of an explosive as well as reliable option at the back end of the event.

They plumped for the latter. Dharamsala showed why the selectors did what they did. In a World Cup where the batting powerplay has set the agenda for the rest of the innings, Australia have their own insurance policy at the top. Marsh can be good, Warner likes to set himself up but Head is where their batting powerplay kicks into gear.

While he's not without his chinks, there is a total conviction in the way he goes about his business. By the time the Black Caps knew what had hit them, Head had moved to a 25-ball 50. Granted the strip at Dharamsala was great for strokeplay but for somebody to display that level after a month out from the game, showed his level.

Since 2022, when Australia sort of promoted Head to open the batting (his first ODI in a three-and-a-half years saw him score a ton while opening), Head has gone about setting a name for himself. While he's been more aggressive than Virender Sehwag, he's averaging 30 runs more than Virat Kohli in the powerplay. Sure, these are unsustainable in the long run but Head is living in the present.

Here are the numbers. From January 1 2022, Head's average in the powerplay is 89.2 while striking the ball at 131.95. To just give a perspective, Rohit Sharma's powerplay numbers in the same time period are 69.7 and 109.88 respectively.

"There are times where we (Warner being the other) can't go as aggressive, there's obviously been periods that we have," Head had said after his 100 against New Zealand. "So, here with two out you want to be as positive as we can be if the wicket allows it and I think over the last sort of 12 months, the wickets have allowed it, they've been pretty good, especially here, especially that wicket."

Did it put any added pressure on the 29-year-old that the team management were willing to play half the tournament with just 14 players? "I understood a lot of things had to go right, personally and with the team," he said. "So, I didn't really feel the pressure. I just wanted to come out and play and contribute. At some stage, you want to step up. It's nice to do it straight away."

Australia's first order of business will be to qualify for the last four where one of India or South Africa will be the opponents. Both bowling groups will be wary of the southpaw.

FAMILIAR FOES MEET

Australia can put sufficient daylight between them and the chasing pack with a win. England, current wooden-spoon holders, need a win to rekindle Champions Trophy aspirations. A look...

WARNER'S INDIAN SUMMER

Just when Australia needed a saviour, David Warner has put both his hands up to come up with the goods. After a few failures, scores of 163, 104 and 81 have meant some much-needed ballast at the top.

ENGLAND'S MYRIAD WOES

One reason for England's losing run is the way their top-order has folded. 117/5 (Afghanistan), 67/5 (England), 85/5 (Sri Lanka) and 52/5 (India) are not scores of a team with good batting form. They'll be hoping for an improved show.

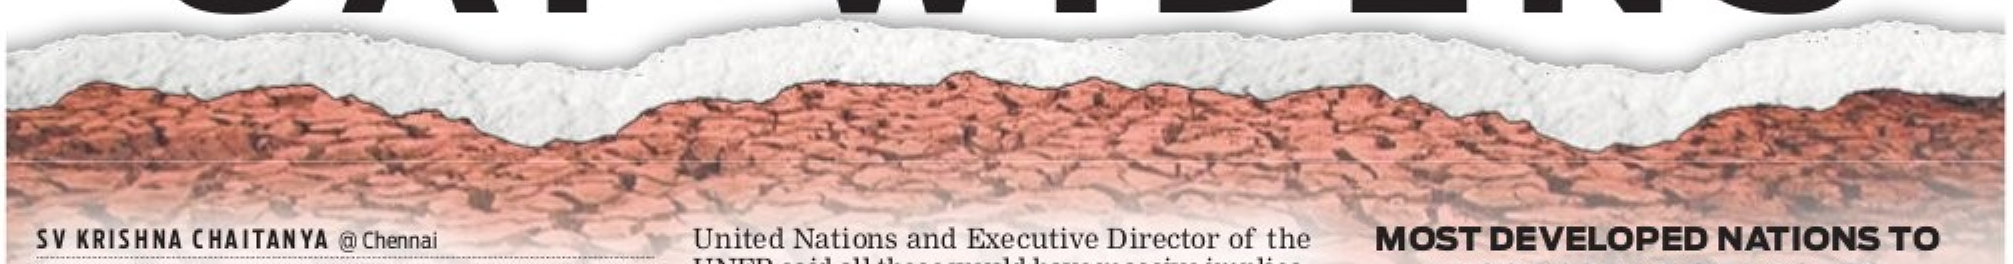
UNEP REPORT CALLS FOR RAPID ACCELERATION OF FINANCE FOR DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

CLIMATE ADAPTATION GAP WIDENS



SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

IN the lead-up to the COP28 to be held in Dubai, the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) released a damning report that univocally says inadequate investment and planning on climate adaptation has left the world exposed.

The report titled "Underfinanced Underprepared" said despite the clear signs of accelerating climate risks and impacts worldwide, the progress on climate adaptation was slowing on all three fronts—finance, planning and implementation—when it should be accelerating. As a result, the costs of adaptation for developing countries are estimated to be in the plausible central range of US$215 billion to US$387 billion per year this decade.

The report said the current climate action is woefully inadequate to meet the temperature and adaptation goals of the Paris Agreement. While global average temperatures are already exceeding 1.1°Celsius above pre-industrial levels, current plans reflected in the nationally determined contribution (NDCs) are putting us on a path towards 2.4'°C to 2.8°C by the end of the century. 2023 is already the worst year on record with multi-billion dollar climate disasters that were farmore disruptive and deadly with temperature records toppling globally and regionally. Storms, floods, heatwaves and wildfires caused devastation in several parts of the world. Inger Andersen, Under-Secretary-General of the United Nations and Executive Director of the UNEP, said all these would have massive implications for people left to face the full force of climate impacts without any shield. "Based on a detailed update, the adaptation finance gap now stands at US$194-366 billion per year, with adaptation finance needs in developing countries likely to be 10-18 times as great as finance flows – over 50% higher than the previous range estimate. At the same time, new adaptation projects are being added more slowly and the number of new national adaptation planning instruments is plateauing," she said.

Pledges thrown out of window

Despite pledges made at COP26 in Glasgow to double adaptation finance support to around $40 billion per year by 2025, public multilateral and bilateral adaptation finance flows to developing countries declined by 15% to around $21 billion in 2021.

The report cites a recent study that indicates the 55 most climate-vulnerable economies alone have already experienced loss and damage valued at more than $500 billion in the last two decades. Costs are likely to rise steeply in the coming decades, particularly in the absence of forceful mitigation and adaptation.

Dhruba Purkayastha, India Director of Climate Policy Initiative (CPI) told TNIE: "Seen in the context of India, which is one of the most climate vulnerable countries in the world, domestic finance, particularly public finance at the subnational level will likely continue to play a prominent role in bridging the adaptation finance gap. It is, therefore, necessary to strengthen the fiscal position of states by better alignment of fiscal devolution to vulnerability which is not the case with current Finance Commissions. It is equally important that India develops a template for tracking and tagging adaptation related expenditures, as this would help in moving towards a credible adaptation finance/funding plan." While the report talks of seven ways to increase financing and bridge the gap, it also points out that adaptation needs are local public goods and would need public finance investments by developing countries, which "if obtained from borrowings would increase indebtedness for vulnerable countries in the Global South," opined Malini Chakravarty from CPI.

COP28 must set momentum

UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres, commenting on the report's findings, said: "All parties must operationalise the Loss and Damage Fund at COP28 this year. And we need new and early pledges to get the fund started on a strong footing. We are in an adaptation emergency. We must act like it. And take steps to close the adaptation gap, now." The UNEP said together with the first Global Stocktake, the COP28 can provide a more robust framework for adaptation finance needs, without losing sight of ramping up mitigation.

The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) estimated what remains of the global carbon budget - a benchmark to keeping global warming below 1.5°C - is about 500 GtCO2. The amount will be depleted by the end of the decade at the current rate of global emissions. The developed countries that are responsible for over 75% of historical emissions, continue to play 'villain'. According to an analysis done by the Council on Energy, Environment and Water (CEEW), developed countries are projected to collectively emit around 3.7 giga tonnes extra carbon dioxide in 2030, against the reduction goals expressed in their NDCs under the 2016 Paris Agreement. This represents a 38% emission overshoot, with the United States, European Union and Russia responsible for 83% of this. Only two developed countries - Norway & Belarus - are on track to achieve their reduction commitments by 2030. The mitigation efforts of developed countries impact the carbon budget available to developing nations, which need sufficient carbon space to address their economic and social development challenges and ensure a just transition.

G Sundarrajan, member, Tamil Nadu Governing Council on Climate Change, told TNIE: "Clearly, the inaction on the part of developed countries has made it impossible to keep global warming below 1.5°C. There will be an overshoot and we may even breach 2°C before there would be some recovery, if stringent actions are taken now. The adaptation gap also shows that time is running out." Dr Vaibhav Chaturvedi, Fellow, CEEW, said, "The numbers are clear – even in this critical decade, developed countries are not projected to meet their 2030 NDC targets. This failure has implications for the limited global carbon budget available now, especially for developing countries like India."

It's a proud moment for New Zealand cricketer Rachin Ravindra's grandparents, who hail from the city, and will be at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium today to watch their grandson battle it out against Pakistan in the ICC Men's World Cup 2023

'RACHIN ALWAYS HAD THAT SPARK IN HIM'

From the archives: Maternal uncle Manthan Adiga, Rachin Ravindra and maternal grandfather TA Balakrishna Adiga

Rachin Ravindra during a practice session at M Chinnaswamy Stadium on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

MONIKA MONALISA

TODAY M Chinnaswamy Stadium is going to host the first match of New Zealand in the World Cup 2023 series in Bengaluru. With New Zealand's all-rounder Rachin Ravindra being part of the game, the match feels personal to Bengalureans. Born to Wellington-based Ravi Krishnamurthy and Deepa, both of whom hail from the city, Ravindra used to visit his maternal grandparents' place in Wilson Garden during vacations when he was younger.

His maternal grandfather TA Balakrishna Adiga, fondly remembers the 'spark' in him as a teenager. "During his visit to Bengaluru, he used to visit Chinnaswamy Stadium quite often," Adiga says. The family will be going to watch Ravindra play live today. "My wife Poornima, my younger son, his wife, and I are going to the match. We will miss his parents who are back in New Zealand," says Adiga.

As a grandfather, Adiga is naturally biased toward his grandson but it also helps that Ravindra is well regarded. "He is hardworking, sincere and we are happy to see him perform well in the World Cup," he says. Ravindra became the second youngest player to score two World Cup tons at the age of 23 against Australia. Before him, it was Sachin Tendulkar who achieved the feat at the age of 22.

Adiga, a retired principal of Vijaya College, mentions that the family always knew that Ravindra's true calling was cricket. "He was doing engineering but could not take the exams because of his practice," says the grandfather. Owing to the tight schedule, Ravindra won't be visiting his grandparents this time. "He has to constantly travel, so it's difficult for him to visit. Even earlier, when he used to visit us as part of his cricket club, it was only for short durations. So we don't get much time to do food joint trips as usually grandfathers and grandsons do," says the 72-year-old. Ravindra's father, a former club player and founder of Hutt Hawks Cricket Club in Wellington which Rachin was also a member of, brings young members of his cricket club to India every year.

STARTING YOUNG

① Rachin Ravindra represented New Zealand in the Under-19 World Cup in 2016 and went on to play in the 2018 edition of the tournament

② In 2021, Ravindra made his T20 debut against Bangladesh in Mirpur

③ The same year he made his Test debut and his maiden Test was interestingly in India

④ Earlier this year, Ravindra finally broke into New Zealand's ODI setup as well

MIRAKUL

Mileage Boosters for Better Mobility

WHEN Narendra Jain, a new age entrepreneur with deep knowledge of Ayurveda, started marketing 'Mirakul Pain Killer Oil', it was only the beginning of a passion for inventing simple solutions for grave problems.

Today, he is the only entrepreneur 'around the globe to be marketing a fuel additive that claims and delivers astonishing mileage increment'.

Branded as 'Mirakul Diesel Mileage Booster' and 'Mirakul Petrol Mileage Booster', his products help burn the fuel faster, efficiently and evenly, resulting in conversion of maximum heat energy to mechanical energy. He speaks about the unique features of his products, the challenges and his future plans.

Tell us about how you were able to come up with the mileage boosters.

▪ It all began when I tried to use biodiesel for my car, making the fuel from different oils like oils from restaurants, fresh coconut oil, mustard oil and mixing and adding some catalysts. One fine day, a product took shape which was not equivalent to biodiesel but was something else. And that was my Eureka moment.

I have not relied on any experts or any external R&D team, but my own trial and error method. I started fine-tuning the product for over four years till I perfected the mixing ratio.

What is the mixing ratio?

▪ With Mirakul Diesel Booster, 2ml is added per litre of diesel and with the petrol booster, 2.5ml is added per litre. Both formulations are completely different.

What are the main advantages of Mirakul Diesel Mileage Booster & Mirakul Petrol Mileage Booster?

▪ The boosters, which are BS6 compliant, improve mileage by up to 25% (Mirakul Diesel Mileage Booster) and up to 40% (Mirakul Petrol Mileage Booster). They ensure smooth running of the engine with no negative impact. They reduce emission, engine NVH (Noise, Vibration and Harshness) levels, fuel bills thus saves money, and maintains peak engine performance of the engine. The booster also protects the environment by reducing fuel requirements.

Which vehilcles have yielded positive results so far?

▪ The products have worked effectively on Royal Enfield Bullet, increasing milage from 28 km/lite to 40 km/litre; TVS Jupiter (35 km/litre to 50 km/litre; Skoda Octavia (16km/litre to 23km/litre); Suzuki Desire (18km/litre to 23km/litre). These were trial vehicles, and those who used have clearly given testimonials that the results are encouraging.

What were the challenges?

▪ Marketing the products have been a challenge since currently the market is unregulated. The only regulation is BS6, which is a pollution norm and our product conforms to the specifications. We have got it tested with TUV India Private Limited's laboratory in Jamnagar.

Since my invention in 2017, I have tried the products on many vehicles, and till now there has not been even one complain of any adverse effect to the vehicles.

What are your plans?

▪ I have a small manufacturing plant in Bengaluru with a capacity of 2 tonne per day, and I am hoping that the market share will soon increase by word-of-mouth as well as other modes of spreading the awareness. The products are currently availble on Flipkart and Amazon.

NAMMA-OORU BENGALURU

RUBINATIONS

Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

AT the risk of sounding like the terminator, I will modify his famous last words to 'I'm baccck'! My sojourn to muggy Mumbai was restful and being around my munchkin was cathartic and peaceful. I gave myself no room to rush around meeting people socially and spending time with my family and friends-like-family, became a priority. Though I was chuffed when my phone lit up like a Christmas tree as my flight touched down on terra firma, I knew that my time as a 'lotus-eater' was well and truly over.

After a hurried and perfunctory buss on my cheek, my rather relieved looking other-half, launched into a 'to-do' list and a longer list of complaints! As I had left my 'boys' to look after themselves and my home, I was rather relieved that the staff hadn't played hooky and there was cooked food in the house! Sometimes I wonder why I am an abettor to this lackadaisical attitude, but in the end one has to pick ones battles! It is way better for me to have the arrangements on point rather than come home to a nuclear holocaust! That being said, the goody-two-shoes behavior lasted for exactly 24 hours and I have already started pulling at my hair and banging doors to show my dis-pleasure. Why is it that 'friends-like-family' are way more tolerable than 'real' family? Sigh!

Vishal Nagpal

Sunaina Chauhan

Whenever I am in the ultimate city I make it a point to meet up with my 'ooru' friends that are creating waves on the western shores. Kunal and Sunaina Chauhan are two dear friends who have adopted Mumbai as their new home. Sunaina swears that there will be no place like 'home' (meaning Bangalore of course) while Kunal, has most ably taken the reins of the massive JW Marriott property in his able hands and has turned the hotel around in a few years. I remember visiting it during those awful pandemic years and saw the valiant effort put in by the team and Kunal to revive it. I visited recently and only because I had 'influence' did we get a reservation for dinner at the packed restaurant! Sunaina and I caught up over lunch at our fave haunt, Bastian, and there wasn't a topic that wasn't discussed threadbare…especially about the developments (the good, the bad and the ugly) in our city. Things' that annoy and vex you, often gets converted into loud guffaws and laughs outside its precincts. But, Bangalore is our home…and we love her through it all!

I was looking forward to meeting our own 'wonder-boy restaurateur Vishal Nagpal in Mumbai. Vishal had spoken about opening a branch of his café Trippy Goat, in Mumbai. Though a casual diner, Trippy Goat serves food and wine for the sophisticated palate. As a young 'un who has a formidable reputation as a gourmand and wine connoisseur, Vishal has helped set up a host of restaurants in namma city. His new minimalistic décor restaurant in the up-market mid-town area of Mumbai already looks like a winner. His cuisine is southern-spice inspired and reeks of authentic flavours with an innovative feel. Vegetable ratatouille with an Andhra-inspired sauce to be poured with a flourish. Beautifully flavoured and plated!

Mumbai will have its socks knocked off!

Diet plans based ON PLANTS

NUTRIWISE

Sadhvika Srinivas

@sadhvikaaa (dietitiansadhvika@gmail.com)

(Sadhvika is a clinical nutritionist who attends to metabolic disorders. She also works towards sports nutrition.)

PLANT-based diets have been highly adopted by people lately. Plant-forward eating patterns focus on foods primarily from plants. This includes not only fruits and vegetables, but also nuts, seeds, oils, whole grains, legumes, and beans. It doesn't mean that you are vegetarian or vegan and never eat meat or dairy. Rather, you are choosing more of your foods from plant sources.

Plant-based diets have a reduced environmental impact, including producing lower levels of greenhouse gas emissions. Dietary guidelines are formulated to enhance health, reduce the risk of chronic diseases, and prevent nutritional deficiencies.

Characteristics of plant-based diets are low intake of saturated fat and high intake of dietary fibre. In contrast, potentially deleterious characteristics are the risk of low intake of some micronutrients such as vitamins B12, D, calcium and iodine, particularly in vegans. Vegetarians and vegans have lower BMI, serum LDL cholesterol and BP than comparable regular meat-eaters.

On the macronutrient level, plant-based diets feature different types of fatty acids (mono- and poly-unsaturated versus saturated and trans) and sugars (complex and unrefined versus simple and refined), which might both be important players in mediating beneficial health effects.

(I) BEHAVIOUR & COGNITION

- Motivation or cognitive processes (ethical, environmental, health motives)
- Brain activity for language and empathy-related tasks
- Emotional health
- Personality traits

(II) METABOLITES

- Decreased fasting glucose (HbA1c)
- Increased insulin sensitivity
- Decreased total and LDL-cholesterol and short-chain fatty acids

(III) OVERALL HEALTH

- Decreased BMI
- Decreased all-cause mortality
- Decreased risk for obesity, cardiovascular, cardiometabolic disease, type 2 diabetes mellitus
- Decreased risk for any types of cancers

On the micronutrient level, there is a lower intake of saturated fatty acids (SFA), retinol, vitamins B12 and D, calcium, zinc and protein, and on the other hand, higher intake of fibre, magnesium, iron, vitamin B1, C and E in vegan compared to omnivore dieters.

Consuming plant-based diets is safe for all stages of the life cycle, from pregnancy and lactation to childhood and old age. Plant-based diets, which are high in fibre, are also associated with a diverse gut microbiota, producing metabolites that have anti-inflammatory functions that may help manage disease processes

High fibre intake from legumes, grains, vegetables and fruits is a prominent feature of plant-based diets, which could induce beneficial metabolic processes like upregulated carbohydrate fermentation and downregulated protein fermentation, improved gut hormonal-driven appetite regulation and might prevent chronic diseases such as obesity and T2DM by slowing down digestion and improving lipid control.

There is lower systemic inflammation in plant-based dieters which could be due to the abundance of anti-inflammatory molecule intake and/or avoidance of proinflammatory animal-derived molecules. Assessing systemic inflammation is particularly relevant for medical conditions such as obesity, where it has been proposed to increase the risk of cardiovascular disease

The effects of a plant-based diet on the microbiome–gut–brain axis on overall health, microbial composition and activity, behaviour and cognition are also beneficial.

Ester Noronha

Ester Noronha's The Vacant House gets a release date

CE FEATURES

Ester Noronha, known for her roles in several Kannada films such as Navika, Atiratha, Nuggikayi, Local Train, and Lanke, is making her directorial debut with The Vacant House.

This film, which is said to be a love story revolving between two young individuals is scheduled to release on November 10, coinciding with Yogaraj Bhat's Garadi. In addition to directing, Ester has also taken on the responsibilities of production, and music direction, and apart from playing the lead role in the film.

This bilingual film, produced by Janet Noronha Productions film, shot in both Kannada and Konkani, was extensively filmed in Mangalore and revolves around events taking place in an empty house. Ester, originally from the coastal region, spent most of her life in Mumbai and received training at Anupam Kher's acting school. She has also acted in Telugu and Tulu movies, and now she is putting her years of experience to use in her directorial debut. The Vacant House has Narendra Goud as the cinematographer and Vijay Raj as the editor.

'MY NEXT WILL BE A MASS ENTERTAINER TAILOR- MADE FOR TRUE-BLUE DARSHAN FANS'

..says director Prakash Veer, of his upcoming film titled #Devil- The Hero, which he plans to take on floors in December. Composer Ajaneesh Lokanth and cinematographer will be joining hands with Darshan for the first time.

Darshan

A SHARADHAA

CHALLENGING Star Darshan, who is nearly done with the shooting of Kaatera, with just one song pending is getting ready to start his next project with Prakash Veer. After a hiatus, the duo, who previously delivered the successful film Tarak in 2017, are teaming up for another exciting project. This time, the actor-director combo is aiming to deliver a mass commercial venture. Prakash Veer, who known for his expertise in family dramas and light-hearted films like Milana, Khushi, Rishi, Vamshi and Tarak, plans to capture the essence of a typical Darshan film in every way possible. The film gets an interesting title as Devil and its tagline is The Hero.

Prakash Veer, on the sidelines of the soft launch shared more details about this highly anticipated project. "Nov 2 is considered an auspicious day, so we have conducted the muhurath. I'm eagerly waiting for Darshan to wrap up Kaatera so we can work on his appearance, which plays a crucial role in this film. We plan to begin shooting in December," the director reveals.

Prakash emphasised that Devil will be an unapologetic, complete mass entertainer, distinctly different from his previous films. "Darshan has always wanted to offer something that his loyal fans would love to see him in. We found the perfect script tailored for his massive fan base. Devil is going to be an action-packed thriller and a true mass entertainer. We hope to meet everyone's expectations," he stated.

He also clarified that his next film with Darshan will be a departure from what was seen in Tarak and his previous works. "I was a different director during Tarak, but now, bearing my family name as Prakash Veer (a tribute to my father C Jayaram's legacy in the Kannada industry), I've spent the last five to six years unlearning what I've learned in my directorial career to make this film. Tarak was my way, but Devil will be Darshan's way, made specifically for the Challenging Star and his fans. I am incredibly excited about the film and can't wait to start shooting," he expressed.

Currently, Prakash in preparation works, finalising locations here, and overseas. The team is also in search of a heroine and the rest of the cast, aiming to finalise them as soon as possible. Interestingly, the film, produced under Prakash Veer's home banner, Vaishno Studios, has on board, Ajaneesh Loknath for music and Santhosh Rai Pathaje for cinematography. This is the first time these two technicians have collaborated for a Darshan film.

Mahalakshmi's promising comeback makes for a decent watch

RATING 2.5/5

TRP RAMA

Director: Ravi Prasad

Cast: Mahalakshmi, Sparsha RK, Ravi Prasad, Pallavi Parva, and Kari Subbu

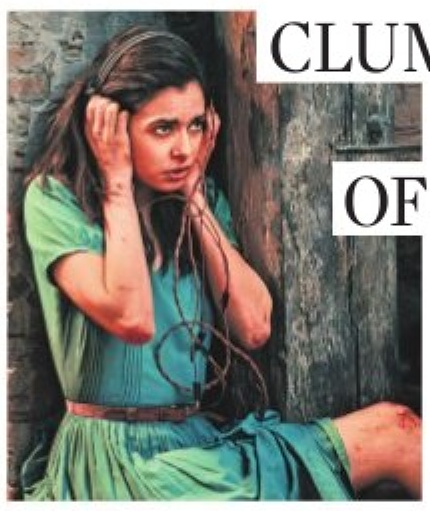
TRP Rama ventures into the realm of investigative journalism and explores a series of gruesome rape cases. The compelling premise follows Nakshatra (Sparsha RK), a resolute investigative reporter, on a mission to unearth the truth surrounding Rama (Ravi Prasad) and his potential involvement in these heinous crimes. As Nakshatra delves deeper into her investigation, her path converges with that of Lakshmamma (Mahalakshmi), a distraught mother relentlessly seeking her missing son. The film masterfully raises profound questions regarding their connection and the pivotal mystery of whether Rama is genuinely guilty or a convenient scapegoat manipulated by hidden malevolent forces.

The film fearlessly confronts the contentious issue of 'unethical reporting' within the media and introduces an important perspective. However, despite the film's commendable potential, it falters due to deficiencies in both writing and execution, causing meticulously crafted characters, initially conceived with depth and complexity, to appear regrettably feeble in the later half.

Ravi Prasad, who has take up the multiple roles as a writer, director and actor, shows promise as a filmmaker but a work in progress as a performer. Sparsha, a singer-turned-actor, radiates a natural and mesmerizing presence, undeniably contributing to the film's allure. Pallavi Parva expertly embodies the role of a village belle, adding an additional layer of authenticity to the narrative. However, the most striking and unforgettable performance is delivered by the veteran actor Mahalakshmi, marking her triumphant return to the cinematic realm after a 30-year hiatus. Her portrayal of a grief-stricken mother is nothing short of riveting, infused with a palpable and profound sense of emotional depth and resonance.

The film's music, composed by Rajguru Hoskote, incorporates folk elements into its composition. While the soundtrack fails to emerge as a defining feature of the film, it harmoniously complements the narrative by setting the tone and atmosphere effectively.

TRP Rama represents a remarkable deviation from the established conventions of typical thriller cinema, aspiring to provide a more nuanced and socially conscious perspective. Regrettably, its noble aspirations are somewhat undercut by its execution, ultimately falling short of realizing its full potential. Nonetheless, for enthusiasts of the thriller genre and those who appreciate films that engage with pressing social issues TRP Rama still offers a compelling and thought-provoking one-time viewing experience, serving as a valuable source of introspection and contemplation.



CLUMSILY STAGED ADAPTATION OF A WAR STORY

ANUSHA SUNDAR

WAR stories have a certain beat to them. They are not only chambered with a cluster of emotions but also carry the weight of history. They can evoke a sense of wonder, guilt, and remorse, depending on which side of history you are from. The Book Thief is one such story that focuses on a girl whose love for literature and worldly knowledge mattered to her the most, even if she was at the centre of the Nazi-occupied World War II era of brutality. The film adaptation of The Book Thief left a haunting impression through these characters, rather than just amplifying the outside world's injustice. The bombs were just peripheral actors, and the war cry was just a background score with the internal conflicts of emotions taking centre stage. But, unfortunately, the same cannot be said about Netflix's latest adaptation of Pulitzer Prize-winning All The Light We Cannot See (ATLWCS) by Anthony Doerr. Set against the very same war backdrop, this time in the Nazi-occupied coastal city in France, ATLWCS fails to make a real connection, despite its characters showing true potential.

ATLWCS boils down to two main characters: Marie Laure, a blind French girl who is sending broadcasts through her radio every night from her attic, and Werner Pfennig, a German soldier, who is on the other end, listening to her with enthusiasm, even if he is supposed to oust them and serve the Nazis. There are plenty of grand war sequences that make us give this Netflix adaptation a big thumbs up on the production side. It almost feels real that these effects add up and bring out the brutality of the war, with its beautifully lit, and majestically mounted frames. But it fails to evoke emotions, despite having two characters that can have plenty of layers and emotional heft considering the circumstances. In a moment when Marie and Werner, whose connection begins long before they meet, share a tender moment of love, it never prompts us to be happy for them, instead relegating it to just a seemingly forced addition to methodically place a kiss in the story of war-torn individuals. The acting doesn't help either.

RATING 2/5

Told in a non-linear sequence, there are moments of tenderness shared between the leads, but none of them stay long enough. Instead, what we get are half-baked narratives, a messy turn of events, and uni-dimensional characters. Despite the high stakes considering the premise, ATLWCS never really converts the initial promise to anything.
